AMC, UAW Okay New 3-Year Pact

Profit-Share Plan Continued; GM's Only Struck Firm

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors Corp. and the United Auto Workers Union reached agreement today on a new three-year contract covering AMC's 24,000 automotive division employees and continuing profit sharing.

Left hanging, however, was agreement on a new pact that would cover 3,000 in AMC's Kelvinator appliance division at Grand Rapids, Mich.

A continuing walkout there conceivably could cut off the company's automobile building. Doors and fabrics for cars are made there, as well as refrigerators and the like.

Another shut-down threat was on AMC's horizon. Borg-Warner Corp., which supplies transmissions, is in new contract negotiations with old contract extension on a day-to-day basis.

Both AMC and the UAW predicted Rambler and Ambassador car production would be resumed Tuesday after a four-day strike in support of UAW contract demands on AMC.

This would leave General Motors Corp., the world's No. 1 automaker, the only one shut by strike.

GM and the other two members of the Big Three — Ford and Chrysler — reached national-contract agreement ahead of AMC.

In the new national economic agreement, AMC workers get the higher pensions, earlier retirement and wage gains won earlier in the Big Three pacts — plus a share in profits, if sufficiently high.

In 1961, when the previous three-year contracts were negotiated, AMC and the UAW settled first and came up with the industry's only profit-sharing plan. It was diluted this time, but retained.

General Motors, despite its new national economic agreement, has been shut 25 days now by walkouts supporting demands made in at-the-plant negotiations. Local-level working agreements here, as elsewhere, supplement the national contract.

Agreement thus far has been reached by 78 of GM's 130 UAW bargaining units, and the union is standing on its strike decision of Sept. 25 that there will be no return to work until all or a whopping majority are wrapped up.

Ford has settled 67 of 90 local-level working agreements and Chrysler has completed them all.

Announcement of the new agreement at American Motors came in today's early hours, after almost 40 hours of near-continuous negotiations.

Red Chinese Due Second A-Test Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials believe that the Chinese Communists may soon explode a second nuclear device.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said Sunday in a television interview on ABC's "Issues and Answers" that a second explosion might be forthcoming.

The first blast, last Friday, was predicted by Rusk in a late September statement. His forecast was based on U.S. intelligence information and estimates of the Chinese Communist nuclear capability.

At that time it was generally believed by Washington authorities that the Chinese would probably use up their supply of nuclear explosive material in one shot.

But the test they conducted Friday was described by American nuclear experts as having a low yield. Such a blast would not require an especially large amount of fissionable material — uranium or plutonium. The Chinese are known to have a number of atomic installations.

Officials said that a second detonation would not have any greater military significance than the first. All agree that the Chinese will require 5 to 10 years to accumulate even a modest stockpile of atomic weapons and the bombs or rockets to deliver them.

250 Acres Burned

Rain Helps Quell Huge Brush Fire In Industry Area

Autumn rains today helped quell the last hot spots in a huge brush fire in the industry area that was brought under control at 1:30 a. m. by 180 men from seven fire departments after it roared over about 250 acres.

The fire broke out originally Friday afternoon in the Wolf Run area off Route 68 and blazed anew Saturday afternoon after being nearly confined. The wind fanned fresh life into smoldering leaves.

The fire covered an area of about two miles and at one time came within 200 feet of the new Willows Motel. It also endangered a couple of homes on Mickey's Rd. and several dwellings on Wolf Run.

A SHIFTING wind and backfires helped turn the onrushing flames.

County Commissioner Eli Corak of Midland declared a state of emergency Sunday afternoon when it appeared the fire would get completely out of hand. He also appealed for additional help.

Departments responded from Midland, Brighton Township, Ohioville, Big Knox (Sewickley), Vanport and Shippingport. Two tank trucks were also volunteered to carry water to the scene.

GEORGE CINDRICH of the Cindrich Construction Co. in Midland volunteered three bulldozers to help cut fire breaks completely around the blaze and to cut roads for the fire apparatus to use to get water to the blaze. The fire was confined mostly to steep hillside areas away from the roads.

Several departments, including East Liverpool and Avalon, Pa., were on stand-by status and offered assistance if needed.

RAIN THAT fell early today helped reduce the danger of brush fires. But several roared across the area before the weatherman sent help.

Two separate fires burned over roughly 1,300 acres of tinder-dry brush and forest in the Lawrenceville area over the weekend.

The biggest fire was in the area of Grandview School and spread over about 1,000 acres of watershed. It started Saturday and was finally quelled by about 80 firemen from Lawrenceville and Hookstown and a group of young boys Sunday night. Shovels, brooms and pack type extinguishers were used.

The fire covered most of the old Chapman Farm near Grandview School, according to Walter (Bud) Sayre, forest protector for Hancock County. He said firemen also were present from Glenmoor and Chester, and a radio club from East Liverpool assisted.

FIRE CHIEF Clark Lively of Lawrenceville said his department also fought another fire Saturday morning at 11 along State Route 2 at the Clark Stewart farm. The fire burned over about 300 acres.

He blamed squirrel hunters for starting both fires.

"They were still in the woods shooting along Route 2 when we were fighting that fire on Saturday," he said.

Lively said he was considering asking West Virginia officials to impose a ban on squirrel hunting until rain Sunday night dampened the woods and fields to eliminate the threat of further fires.

Sayre asked hunters to use caution while in the woods due to the dryness of the leaves and undergrowth. He expressed appreciation to the auxiliary of the Lawrenceville department for providing food and coffee to firemen at the scene of the Chapman Farm fire and at the department.

CHESTER firemen responded to a false alarm Sunday morning about 2. The department was called by an unidentified male to send a truck to the T-K Roofing Co. on Carolina Ave., but found nothing amiss at the plant.

Fire burned off more than 40 acres of wooded hillside off Wells Ave. and Highland Ave. over the weekend, according to Wellsville firemen.

Firemen were recalled to the scene three times to battle the stubborn blaze.

Suffers Internal Bleeding

Herbert Hoover 'Seriously Ill'

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Herbert Hoover, 90, afflicted by massive internal bleeding, passed a comfortable night, his doctors announced this morning.

The bleeding has been stopped, the announcement said. But doctors termed his condition still serious.

"The outlook is grave," the statement said.

The 10:30 a.m. bulletin concerning the nation's 31st president said his blood count has been restored to normal.

"However, the massive loss of blood into his gastrointestinal tract has resulted in the accumulation of toxic products in his bloodstream which have induced a state of unresponsiveness," the bulletin said.

"Efforts have been undertaken to clear his system of these toxic elements, but the outlook is grave," it added.

A press spokesman for Hoover declined to elaborate on the "state of unresponsiveness" mentioned in the bulletin.

Hoover's third attack of internal bleeding within 16 months struck him early Sunday. He was in his Waldorf Towers suite where he has been confined by failing health most of the time for two years.

A late afternoon medical bulletin said Hoover was "comfortable and in no pain." The bulletin, signed by three physicians, said that Hoover remained "critically ill."

"Blood loss from the upper gastrointestinal tract has continued but it appears lessening."

Replacement of blood by transfusions has kept pace with the losses which have been large," the bulletin said.

"His blood pressure, pulse and vital signs are stable."

"The prognosis is extremely guarded, especially in view of the patient's advanced age."

The bulletin was issued by Dr. Michael J. Lepore, Hoover's personal physician, and Drs. Howard Patterson and J. Beall Rodgers.

Neil MacNeil, a press spokesman for Hoover and former assistant managing editor of the New York Times, said the current illness began at 3:55 p.m. Saturday.

The initial report said the bleeding occurred during the night as two nurses were attending Hoover.

Water Crew Repairs Midland Main Break

About 1,400 Midland homes were without water for about three and a half hours Sunday night after a break occurred in a 14-inch raw water line in the Crucible Steel Co. supply station.

Donald Craik, water plant manager, said about 1,400,000 gallons of water was in the standpipes when the break occurred.

Crucible employees completed repairs at 12:30 a. m. on the line, which supplies water to the Midland plant. Crucible also was without water for sanitary and drinking purposes.

Brezhnev Asks Reds Be Unified

New Soviet Chief Makes His First Policy Statement

MOSCOW (AP) — The new leader of the Soviet Union, Leonid I. Brezhnev, proclaimed today a policy of peaceful coexistence, disarmament and equality among Communist parties.

Brezhnev made his first personal statement of policy since the removal of Nikita Khrushchev in a speech to a Red Square reception for the three latest Soviet cosmonauts.

Brezhnev made no reference to his takeover last Wednesday of Khrushchev's position as first secretary of the Soviet Communist party. Khrushchev has disappeared since then.

In a 20-minute address from atop Lenin's Tomb, Brezhnev said "some people express disquiet that the Soviet Union is far ahead of the United States" in space flight. Some estimates say two years ahead, some five years, he added.

"We are pleased that the Soviet Union is ahead, but we do not consider cosmic research as some kind of a race," Brezhnev said. It is part of Soviet creative work in all fields for the benefit of man, he said.

Thousands roared their welcome to the three cosmonauts, the first a week ago to circle the earth in a multi-seat spacecraft.

Brezhnev, Alexei N. Kosygin who took over Khrushchev's job as premier, President Anastas I. Mikoyan and Mikhail Suslov, a member of the party Presidium, were out at the airport to meet the three. The cosmonauts had flown 1,250 miles from space headquarters.

They hugged the trio — Col. Vladimir Komarov, commander of the spaceship, scientist Konstantin Feoktistov and Dr. Boris Yegorov.

After a triumphant ride from the airport, the new cosmonauts, the members of the party's Central Committee presidium and five of the previous six cosmonauts lined up atop Lenin's Tomb. Waves of cheers swept the vast square.

Brezhnev told the crowd standing under the Kremlin walls that a Leninist policy would be followed.

Cooler Trend Follows Rain

Snow Flurries Due In Northeast Ohio

Real autumn weather returned to the East Liverpool area today after showers opened the door early this morning.

From a high in the mid-80's Sunday afternoon, the mercury dipped overnight to a low of 45 at 5 this morning.

Welcome but intermittent showers dampened under dry leaves, grass and brush, but were not heavy enough to give lawns, trees and shrubs the deep soaking they need before winter arrives.

The ideal Indian summer weather which prevailed across much of the nation last week came to an abrupt end Sunday as chilly northwesterly winds swept down from Canada.

The weatherman said snow flurries may be expected tonight and Tuesday in some parts of northeast Ohio. The temperature will fall to a low of 30-35 tonight, he said.

Cold weather already has arrived in the Rocky Mountain west. Mid-afternoon temperatures yesterday in many cities were in the mid-30's after early morning lows in the teens. Butte, Mont., registered a chilly 8 degrees yesterday morning.

Report Says No Survivors

Airliner Carrying Soviet Officials Crashes, Burns

No Disclosure Of Number Aboard In Yugoslavia Crash

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — An airliner, carrying a Soviet delegation reported headed by Marshal Sergei S. Biryuzov, crashed and burned today on Avala Hill, 10 miles south of Belgrade.

The Yugoslav news agency Tanjug said there were no survivors.

Biryuzov, 59, rose last year from commander of rocket forces to chief of the Soviet general staff under the administration of Nikita Khrushchev, who was deposed last Wednesday as premier and Soviet Communist party head.

The Soviet delegation was en route to Belgrade for a celebration of the 20th anniversary of the World War II liberation of Belgrade.

The plane took off from Moscow this morning. Because of fog shrouding Belgrade, the plane was ordered to put down at an airport north of the city. But it overshot that airport.

There was no immediate disclosure of the number of persons aboard the plane, but it was a four-engine craft designed to carry 75 to 98 passengers.

Pope Plans Trip To India In December

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Preparations have begun for Pope Paul VI to visit India in early December. It will be the longest journey ever planned by a pontiff.

Terminating himself "the apostle on the move," the Pope announced Sunday that he would make the 4,100-mile plane trip to Bombay to attend the International Eucharistic Congress. The major spiritual gathering, held every four years, is scheduled Nov. 28-Dec. 6.

Vatican sources said the Pope would probably leave Rome on Dec. 3, the feast day of St. Francis Xavier, and return Dec. 6 after addressing the congress.

"Yes, the Pope is becoming a missionary," the pontiff told an approving audience in St. Peter's Basilica. He said the trip "is not foreign to the nature of the requirements of the apostolic ministry" and would "be a sign of love and esteem for all the people of the earth."

Pope Paul VI broke papal precedent last January with his trip to the Holy Land, the first time a pope had been outside Italy in 150 years.

Harry Walker Named Manager Of Pirates

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Harry Walker was named field manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates today to succeed Danny Murtaugh, who resigned at the end of the season for health reasons.

The 45-year-old Walker played in the major leagues for the St. Louis Cardinals, Philadelphia Phillies, Chicago Cubs and the Cincinnati Reds.

The announcement was made at a news conference by General Manager Joe L. Brown, who said he had discussed the managerial post with Walker for several hours at the World Series.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Fred Hutchinson, a cancer sufferer, resigned today as manager of the Cincinnati Reds and Dick Sisler, who has been a coach and acting manager, was named to succeed him.

Hopes Kremlin Joins In Blocking Nuclear Spread

Johnson Sees Good Start With New Soviet Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson tells congressional leaders today that the United States has made a "good beginning" in relations with the new leaders of the Soviet Union and hopes the Kremlin will join in renewed efforts to block any further spread of nuclear weapons.

Johnson stressed both these points Sunday night in a report to the nation in which he also spoke of the possible use by Red China of "nuclear blackmail" against other countries, now that it has exploded its first test bomb.

He warned, furthermore, that what he calls China's "expensive and demanding effort (to build nuclear weapons) tempts other states to equal folly — nuclear spread is dangerous to all mankind."

"We continue to believe," Johnson said, "that the struggle against nuclear spread is as much in the Soviet interest as in our own. We will be ready to join with them and all the world — in working to avoid it."

At the same time the President announced in his radio-television address that Washington will continue to support the limited nuclear test-ban treaty which the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and more than 100 other nations signed last year. France and Communist China did not sign.

"We call on the world — especially Red China — to join the nations which have signed that treaty," Johnson said.

The meeting with congressional leaders, both Democrats and Republicans, was scheduled for the White House early this afternoon. It was set up at the end of last week. Officials said that the President would cover substantially the same ground and the same major points which he made in his television broadcast on last week's sensational developments in the Soviet Union and Red China.

Johnson's reaction to the ouster of Soviet Premier Khrushchev and its significance for the United States, as he sees it, covered both the possibility of dangerous future crises and the hope that the new Kremlin leaders will undertake new measures to strengthen world peace.

He said the change in the Soviet leadership was a "good beginning" and that he hoped "our governments will work constructively in attempting to resolve the urgent international problems facing us in the world."

In his address Sunday night, Johnson had words of praise as well as criticism for the deposed Khrushchev, saying that he was "guilty of dangerous adventure" as in the Berlin and Cuban crises but that "he learned from mistakes and he was not blind to realities."

Of Khrushchev's successors, Johnson said they are younger men who may be "less rooted in their past," and they are said "to be realistic."

"We can hope that they will share with us our great objective; the prevention of nuclear war," he added.

He said the change in the Soviet leadership was a "good beginning" and that he hoped "our governments will work constructively in attempting to resolve the urgent international problems facing us in the world."

Sees Loss Of 20,000 Jobs

Senator Raps Proposed Lake-Ohio River Canal

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A Pennsylvania senator expressed opposition to the proposed Lake Erie-Ohio River canal today as a new round of public hearings got under way.

Construction of the canal "could rob Pennsylvania workers of 20,000 railroad, coal and steel jobs," Republican Sen. Hugh Scott said in a statement prepared for presentation at the hearing.

A Washington, D. C., economist spoke in favor of the proposed project, stating it "would provide a much cheaper bulk transport route to benefit Appalachia and the entire Ohio Valley as well as provide stimulus to presently depressed iron mining regions."

The testimony was presented by Robert R. Nathan, who appeared at the request of Interconnecting Waterway, Inc. Nathan said, "The Lake Erie-

Mitchell, 63, Ex-Secretary Of Labor, Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — James P. Mitchell, 63, secretary of labor in the Eisenhower administration, died today in his suite at the Astor Hotel.

He apparently suffered a heart attack. A physician was with him when he died, the hotel said.

Mitchell, big and bluff, but with an air of relaxed charm, had little formal education but a vast background in personnel management when President Dwight D. Eisenhower named him to the Cabinet in 1953.

He had been an expert in labor relations for New York department stores, civilian manpower chief for the armed forces during World War II and assistant secretary of the Army. Organized labor was lukewarm to his appointment at first. Later AFL-CIO President George Meany was to refer to him as the greatest secretary of labor this country had ever had.

Auto Mishaps Fatal To 7 In West Virginia

By The Associated Press
West Virginia recorded at least seven highway fatalities over the weekend, including four in a head-on collision in Boone County.

They boosted the state's highway death toll for this year to 354, compared with 327 at this time last year. A fire death also was reported.

The Boone County accident — on an approach to a blind curve on U. S. 119 about six miles north of Madison — occurred with such impact that one of the victims was hurled about 40 feet onto a porch.

State Police said a station wagon driven by Otis Powell, 41, of Institute, had passed some vehicles and still was on the left side of the road when it collided with an oncoming car driven by Mrs. Edna Gilmore, 62, of Logan.

Mrs. Gilmore was killed, as were her son, Frederick M. Gilmore, 46, of Man, and two children, Patrick Henry Maurice Smoot, 4, and Evett M. Smoot, 1. The Smoots, children of Emmett Smoot of Institute, were in the station wagon with their father, Rowell and at least one other person.

At least four persons were hurt in the crash.

The other weekend victims: Mrs. Pearl McClung Treadway, 67, of Maplewood, Fayette County, died Sunday in a Beckley hospital of injuries received Friday in an accident on W. Va. 19 near Mount Hope.

Harold Guthrie, 38, of Morgantown, died early Sunday in a collision on W. Va. 73 near Fairmont.

Ira Silas Atkins of the Raleigh County community of Pluto was struck and killed by a car near Beckley Friday night. He was 49.

Randolph R. Purdy was fatally burned in a fire that swept his log home near Leon, Mason County, Saturday morning.

Annual Yuletide Ball Arranged At Lisbon

LISBON — The annual Yuletide Ball will be held Dec. 26 at the David Anderson High School gymnasium, according to plans made Sunday at the home of Tom Gallo of W. High St. Committee members will meet again on Nov. 29 to address invitations. Proceeds are used for some worthy organization or project.

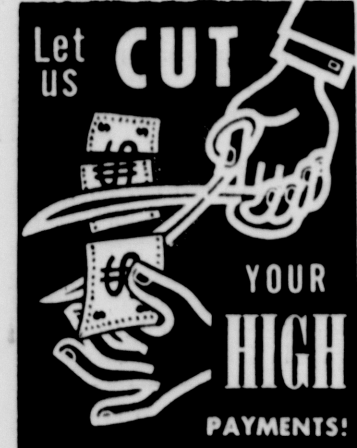

Mrs. Penny Robinson, secretary, said any person who does not receive an invitation and who wishes to be placed on the list should contact her before the Nov. 29 meeting.

Barry Wins Backing On Education Views

CHICAGO (AP)—Paul Weaver, president of Lake Erie College in Painesville, Ohio, is one of 15 college and university presidents who have signed a statement supporting Sen. Barry Goldwater's views on federal aid to education.

The statement termed federal grants as "dangerous." It said the Republican presidential candidate's idea to replace grants with tax credits for individual contributions to colleges "would make it possible for Congress to divert as much tax revenue to higher education as Congress deemed wise while at the same time avoiding all the difficulties and dangers."

Temporary Lull Marks Presidential Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — There was a lull today—but only a temporary one—in the presidential election campaign.

President Johnson canceled campaign appearances in Texas for a radio-television report to the people Sunday night on world events and a meeting with congressional leaders of both parties today. Sen. Barry Goldwater, his Republican opponent, was in Washington for staff conferences before a campaign swing through Maryland Tuesday.

Rep. William E. Miller of New York, Republican vice presidential candidate, rested in San Diego before heading for appearances in the San Francisco Bay area, beginning in San Mateo tonight.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, President Johnson's running mate, skipped a campaign speech in Miami to fly back to Washington for the President's meeting with congressional leaders. He hoped to pick up the campaign trail in Ardmore, Okla., tonight.

Humphrey addressed audiences in Tampa and St. Petersburg, Fla., Sunday, saying Communist China's test of an atomic bomb might encourage France to join in the nuclear test ban treaty and "we ought to bring pressure of the world community on Communist China to try to force Peking to enter in the test ban agreement."

Republican chairman Dean Burch renewed his demand that the major radio-television networks that carried President Johnson's talk Sunday night give Goldwater equal free time. Burch said the President's speech on the new Soviet government and Red China's explosion of a nuclear device gave no new facts and "was utterly politically motivated."

In other political developments:

Richard M. Nixon, former vice president and Republican presidential nominee in 1960, announced a 16-speech Republican campaign itinerary covering 13 states this week, beginning today in Syracuse, N.Y., Hartford and Stamford, Conn.

Bishop Stephen Gill Spottswood of the African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church told the Virginia NAACP Convention in Newport News that the voter registration drive of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has put about 7 million additional Negroes on the nation's voter roles out of a potential of about 12 million.

Dog Discovered After 5 Days As Sewer Prisoner

"Cindy" is home today, resting in her Maplewood home after a five-day siege inside a storm sewer without food or water.

"Cindy" is a 15-year-old cocker spaniel, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Craft of Richmond Ave., who was found inside the 8-inch drain early Sunday morning after the family and neighbors dug her out.

Mrs. Craft was returning home about 1:30 a. m. after babysitting at an Inez Ave. home, when she heard the whimpering of a dog and recognized the sound as "Cindy." The black cocker had been missing since Monday, and, because of her age, the Crafts thought perhaps she had wandered away to die.

Mrs. Craft and the family traced the sound, and she hunted in the neighborhood for a large light to illuminate the digging area. Soon 12 were gathered around the site, helping to excavate the small area in the yard of Richard Lamp, and the dog finally was freed.

"Cindy" had lost a lot of weight and was very thirsty, Mrs. Craft said. "But we were very happy to have her back."

Salineville To Limit Treating To Oct. 30

SALINEVILLE — Halloween "trick-or-treat" visitations will be limited to Oct. 30, from 6:30 to 10:30 p. m., Mayor Stanley Fitch announced today.

The restriction on the Halloweening is for the protection of children and convenience of householders, Mayor Fitch said.

There are nearly 25,000 titles in paperbacks, ranging from Aristotelian philosophy to Pogo humor.

WOHI Slates Change In Network On Nov. 1

Radio station WOHI will change its network affiliation effective Nov. 1.

The station, which has been an affiliate of the American Broadcasting Co. for more than nine years, will become associated with the Mutual Broadcasting System.

Joseph D. Coons, manager, said the station already has booked the Army - Navy football game and the Detroit Lions game.

Mutual is a flexible program service which will enable local programming to be more tightly coordinated with national service, Coons said. Full schedules and details will be announced later.

For County Offices

Voters will fill key Columbiana County offices when they go to the polls Nov. 3. The fact that more than 100,000 people will be served by these offices attests to their importance.

Among those to be chosen are two county commissioners, a Common Pleas Court judge, a prosecuting attorney, a clerk of courts, a sheriff, a recorder, a treasurer and an engineer.

It takes competent people to properly operate a county the size of Columbiana. After careful thought, The Review makes the following recommendations:

COMMISSIONER

Two Republican incumbents seeking fourth terms and two former Democratic commissioners make up the field of four in the race for two seats.

The Republicans are Walter A. Hunston of East Palestine and Galen Greenisen of near Salem. The Democrats are Frank C. Wilson of Wellsville and R. Max Gard of Lisbon. The holdover commissioner is James Boyd of near East Liverpool.

All the candidates have a working knowledge of the duties that go with the office either through present or past service. Thus, experience alone cannot be considered a major factor in this case. But experience plus performance can.

Though they are from the northern part of the county, both Mr. Hunston and Mr. Greenisen once more during their current terms have demonstrated clearly that they have the interests of the entire county at heart and are not influenced in their decisions by sectionalism.

Residents of East Liverpool and the immediate area need look no further than the St. Clair Ave. Improvement program now under way for a forceful example.

When rising construction costs endangered the start of the much-needed and long-awaited project, the county commissioners came forward with a pledge of $75,000 which assured the state of Ohio the necessary funds were available and got the program back on its feet.

Firm in the belief that they will continue to administer for the over-all good and impressed by their performance in office to date, we strongly urge the retention of Mr. Hunston and Mr. Greenisen.

SHERIFF

The incumbent, Russell J. VanFossan of East Palestine, is seeking a third term. He is a Republican.

He is opposed by Edward W. Mallory, a Democrat, former head of the State Highway Patrol post at Lisbon and now safety director at Salem.

Both men are well qualified for the post and the county can be assured of a competent administration of the office regardless of the eventual winner.

However, since commercialized gambling has been kept out of the county under Mr. VanFossan and since the other duties in his care have been carried out well, we can see no reason for making a change at this time. Mr. VanFossan's re-election as sheriff seems in order.

TREASURER

Vincent C. Judge of Lisbon, Democrat, incumbent, is bidding for his sixth term. His Republican opponent is R. Dale Miller of near Lisbon, a hatchery operator and a former accountant.

Democrats and Republicans alike have praised Mr. Judge's handling of the office. That he now is in his fifth term indicates clearly that he has the confidence and respect of the great majority of voters, regardless of party affiliation.

This is another case where it would not make sense to turn out one who has performed so capably. We recommend Mr. Judge for another term.

COMMON PLEAS JUDGE

Joel H. Sharp of Salem is asking a fifth consecutive term, his last — in his own words — if he is returned to the bench. His opponent is County Judge Herbert Arfman of Leetonia.

While they will be listed on the non-partisan judicial ballot Nov. 3, Judge Sharp was nominated in May as a Republican and Judge Arfman as a Democrat.

As the senior member of the court, Judge Sharp's long experience must be recognized. He and Judge Raymond Buzzard of East Liverpool — not facing re-election this fall — form a capable team as the county's two common pleas judges.

Judge Sharp has received the endorsement of the county bar association, whose members have an opportunity to observe his work firsthand. It is our feeling, too, that he deserves another term.

RECORDER

Richard G. Brian of East Liverpool, a Republican, is asking a second term.

John Wargo, a Democrat of Summitville, who is a Franklin Township trustee and an employee of the county auditor's office, is his opponent.

Mr. Brian has conducted his work efficiently in his first term and with the experience gained should prove even more competent if returned to the courthouse. He is deserving of a second term.

CLERK OF COURTS

Carl L. Stacey of Columbiana, Incumbent Democrat, is seeking a second full term.

He is opposed by Dean Rose of near Lisbon, president of the Center Township trustees and operator of an excavating company.

Mr. Stacey has proved an efficient clerk of courts and his record speaks for itself. His re-election is recommended.

PROSECUTOR

Contesting for the office are J. Warren Bettis of Salineville, a Republican, and Atty. Jack Kuhlman of Columbiana, a Democrat.

Mr. Bettis now is serving on the Public Utilities Commission at Columbus. He has represented the county in the Ohio House of Representatives and served as assistant county prosecutor for four years.

He also has been active in various other capacities on a local and county level which add to the background and experience that should prove valuable in the prosecutor's post.

On the strength of the aggressiveness and capability he has displayed in all these positions, we call for Mr. Bettis' election. The prosecuting attorney's office will be in good hands if he is the winner Nov. 3.

ENGINEER

Charles O. Snyder, a Republican, and John Ursu, a Democrat, are the opponents. Both are from Salem.

Mr. Snyder is seeking his seventh term. Mr. Ursu is a self-employed engineer-surveyor and was an unsuccessful candidate for the engineer's post four years ago.

Mr. Snyder has performed his duties in a satisfactory manner and has shown a conscientious and considered approach to the problems that come under his supervision.

He is another we feel deserving of a new term.

Dr. William A. Kolozsi of Salem, Democrat asking a new term as coroner, is the only unopposed candidate on either ticket.

Something's In The Wind!

The Forgotten Issue Of The Campaign

By Raymond Moley

When Candidate Johnson claims that Congress will receive a "mandate" to give him his project for medicare under Social Security, he reaches the very pinnacle of absurdity. For Social Security, with or without medicare, has been the forgotten issue in this campaign.

The generalities in the two party platforms are meaningless. And who, by the way, has read or even thought about those platforms since they were adopted with great TV coverage last summer? They are gone with the roses and strawberries of June, preserved only in the hothouse of librarians.

Goldwater did not spell out his suggestion about making Social Security "voluntary," and after a howl went up he reverted to a general statement of "support of and strengthening of the Social Security system."

Johnson, beyond mentioning the 19.7 million now on the receiving end of the payments, has presented no enlightenment whatever on the subject.

Politicians running for office either don't know what the facts are or find the subject too hot to touch. For the American people are, so far as this subject is concerned, living with foolish delusions. And the task of educating them would be even greater than will be the job which lies ahead to make the system financially sound.

SUCH A COMMUNITY of silence is most unfortunate, because certainly not less than 100 million people are directly financially affected by the subject. This figure includes 15 million receiving old-age benefits, 4.4 million survivors, 76 million employees paying Social Security taxes, and 5.3 million employers.

There are also the children, of workers under 65 who are indirectly concerned.

In short, no subject comes closer to the concerns of all Americans except peace or war or taxes generally or inflation. But no political inhibition rests upon an independent writer and this commentator feels he has an obligation to state the facts.

For the present Social Security obligations and benefits, present and prospective if the 1964 bill passes in 1965, throw a great cloud far into the future and over the lives and happiness of future generations.

Certain facts about the financial solvency of the system are inescapable:

As of 1963 the unfunded obligations of the system amounted to $330 billion. This means that if the benefits are continued at present levels (and they will be, because no political government will reduce them), that amount must be raised for current payments by employee and employer taxes. Also, the generosity of taxpayers must be reduced such government securities in the trust fund as are needed to pay current obligations.

THIS BURDEN will fall upon those under 65.

If medicare is added to Social Security, the unfunded obligations, according to competent actuaries, will rise to more than $400 billion. To repeat, this vast burden must fall upon the employers and the workers who are under 65. And millions must pay who will not be 65 for 30 years or more.

To meet rising payments to those over 65, the rates of Social Security taxes must rise and rise beyond the more than 9 per cent now imposed.

Part of the euphoria now embracing our people was caused by the relatively light tax, the large income, and the small outgo of the early years. In the first seven years, 1937-1943, the taxes yielded something like $5 billion. The outgo was $450 million. So there was a reserve of $4.8 billion (counting interest on securities in the trust fund). This looked fine for the moment. But in the seven years 1957-1963 the income from taxes was $71 billion and the outgo was $77 billion. Thus, the taxes collected grew 14-fold, but the outgo grew 174-fold.

THE BENEFITS have been increased in every election year (and also in 1963) and the taxes have been progressively increased.

I might go on and on to show the troubles ahead. But this will suffice to show the unsoundness of the course our government is pursuing and the unjust burden we are passing on to other generations and to those workers who are presently paying Social Security taxes.

What is needed before another bill is passed by Congress is a real check-up of the system. But to suggest this is like the man who after a brief illness was told by his doctor that he should go to the hospital for a week's check-up.

The man didn't want to take the time and also he was afraid to face the facts. He is dead. He rests in the peace that passeth all misunderstanding.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO—Foster Lowry, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lowry of Pine Grove enrolled at Ohio State University, Columbus.

Mrs. L. L. Hunter and Borough Solicitor Edwin M. Wallover were named Midland aides in the annual Beaver County Christmas seal sale.

Miss Jane Graham was installed as president of the Westminster Guild of the Newell Presbyterian Church.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—Mrs. S. W. Crawford of St. Clair Ave. was elected president of District 1, Daughters of the United Veterans of the Civil War.

Miss Annette Schneidmiller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Schneidmiller of Lincoln Highway, assumed her duties as a secretary in the Navy Department at Washington.

TEN YEARS AGO — Paul A. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Miller of 3rd St., Chester, was named deputy director of Michigan's 370-member extension service staff.

The Neville Home and School Association honored Miss Josie Sherbon, a retired instructor, for her 40 years' service in the city school system.

Today In History

Today is Monday, October 19, the 293rd day of 1964. There are 73 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1781, British troops of Earl Cornwallis surrendered to American and French forces at Yorktown, Va., making ultimate triumph of the rebellion inevitable.

On this date in 1813, French forces under Napoleon were defeated at Leipzig by armies of the allied powers, including Russians, Austrians, Prussians, and Swedes.

In 1864, Gen. Phil Sheridan rallied his men at Cedar Creek, turning a defeat by Confederate Gen. Jubla Early into a Union victory.

In 1946, British authorities in Palestine renewed the dusk-to-dawn curfew in Jerusalem because of new outbreaks of violence.

In 1951, the United States formally declared the end of its war with Nazi Germany.

In 1953, an Eastern Airlines Constellation crashed at Idlewild Airport in New York, killing two persons of the 27 on board; 20 were injured.

Ten years ago — Indian Prime Minister Nehru arrived in Peiping for a courtesy call on Red Chinese leaders.

Five years ago — Bargaining resumed in a longshore strike that shut down ports from Maine to Texas on October first.

It Takes Time

By J. W. Davis

The Process Of Naming A President

The unique American process of putting a president in the White House takes all of a year and a half.

Things really get under way with the selection of the cities where the national party conventions will be held. It was back in June 1963 that the Republicans chose San Francisco and the Democrats picked Atlantic City for their 1964 meetings.

And let it be noted that big American cities are willing to spend a lot of money to get a party convention. San Francisco, for example, won the Republicans with an offer of $650,000 cash, free hotel rooms for some committees and various fringe benefits. Atlantic City came up with a $625,000 cash offer to the Democrats, plus free rental of the convention hall.

AFTER THE convention cities are chosen, there are rumblings about who's going to run. Things begin to shape up more exactly in the spring of the presidential election year with the presidential preference primaries.

The power of the primary was abundantly demonstrated in 1960 by the late President John F. Kennedy. A Roman Catholic, he had to prove to Democratic party leaders he could win in a heavily Protestant state. He did just that in West Virginia, against Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota — and the rest is history.

In all states, during the first half of the year, the Democrats and Republicans select delegates to their national conventions. These delegates are chosen by primaries in some states, and by party conventions or state party committees in others.

Delegates to the conventions are generally substantial people, although they don't always look that way during the televised, sign-jiggling "spontaneous demonstrations."

The Brookings Institution has reported that "the average delegate is a responsible citizen in his fifties, with a college education and an income of about $10,000 a year."

The Republican delegates look a little more affluent than the Democratic ones. But the Democrats, it is widely agreed, have more fun.

THERE ARE more Democratic delegates, too. Eligible to take part in their national convention this year were 2,944 delegates and 2,208 alternates. The Republicans had 1,308 delegates and 1,308 alternates.

Both parties have rather complicated formulas to decide how many delegates each state will have.

The convention system, like the primary setup, is often criticized.

"Political conventions represent more wasted energy, more futile fruitless endeavor, more useless expenditure of noise, money and talent than any institution on earth," commented writer Irvin S. Cobb.

But conventions keep going in the same old way, largely because they work fairly well and because no more effective method has been found. They come up with candidates quickly in most instances, and quite often those chosen are good men by any standard.

The main business of a convention, aside from picking nominees for president and vice president, is to agree on a platform for the party.

This can stir great heat and controversy at the time, although few except those most affected by particular planks can remember very long just what was the platform.

ONCE THE candidates are chosen and the platform printed, there is usually a quiet time of several weeks.

But the fireworks generally start going off by early September, and then there follows a terrific amount of activity — speaking tours, TV and radio speeches — maybe even debates — newspaper stories and editorials by the many thousands, magazine articles, billboard advertising, sloganeering of all sorts, charges and counter-charges.

All this roars on until election day — the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November. That is the day when the individual voter becomes master of those who would lead him.

And yet, the election of the president is not by the voters at all, but by the presidential electors — another system often deplored but never changed.

Each state has as many electors as it has senators and representatives in Congress. The electors are nominated for each party by the state party convention or the state central committee.

The people choose between the rival slates of electors, but usually they don't even know who the electors are — they just vote Democratic or Republican.

THE ELECTORS are not legally bound to vote for the party candidate, but they almost always do. They meet at the state capitals on the first Monday after the second Wednesday in December, vote and pass the word to Washington.

The party getting the highest popular vote in a state, even if it is not a majority, gets all the state's electoral votes.

On next Jan. 6 Congress will meet for the counting of the electoral votes. There are 538 of them and it takes 270 to win.

All this is largely formality. The outcome of the election is often known on election day, seldom very long after.

Finally will come another great climax — the inauguration on Jan. 20. This is a time of parades and balls, galas and merrymaking. It is also a time of great solemnity.

Especially solemn is the moment when the newly-elected president stands before the multitude at the Capitol and takes this oath of office prescribed by the Constitution:

"I do solemnly swear that I will faithfully execute the office of president of the United States, and will to the best of my ability, preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States."

U.S. Still Puzzled

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The American government is still puzzled, and no wonder, about why Nikita Khrushchev is now among the unemployed.

When Moscow announced last Thursday that Khrushchev had been bounced as No. 1 man, President Johnson admitted he was baffled.

He did the same Sunday night in his nationwide broadcast: "We do not know exactly what happened."

Khrushchev, like Stalin, held the two most important jobs: premier and secretary of the Communist party. He lost both. The puzzle began there.

The reasons for firing him were given as age and ill health. He is 70 but very active.

Then the new leadership accused him of "harebrained scheming, bragging, phrase-mongering" and "armchair methods."

But the two top new leaders who split his two jobs between them were his proteges and right-hand men: Leonid I. Brezhnev, 57, secretary of the party, and Alexei N. Kosygin, 60, premier.

Right after calling him "harebrained" the new leadership said it would continue his policies.

If that's not confusing enough, there's the history of jiggling and juggling inside the top leadership from away back.

If that history repeats itself, as it probably will, Brezhnev and Kosygin are only temporary front men and the real leader is playing quiet or hasn't emerged yet.

Naturally, Johnson and the American government are not only wondering why Khrushchev was really fired but who and where the new No. 1 man is.

Letter From Max

Dear Truman Twill:

Remember the good old days, like last year, when all you could see on television was westerns?

And we complained. Now we complain because we don't have so many westerns. Well, they can't please everybody, or should it be anybody?

What started me off on this tack was an article about how western films are all de rigueur in Spain and Germany now. The western has moved eastward, so to speak.

That is a fair trade — they get westerns and we get Ben Hur and Cleopatra. It is a nice point to think about — the old Roman days provided Europe's early frontier, while our old west provided ours.

If you ever get a longing for the old west, just recall the recent past when the TV screens were crowded with the likes of Hopalong Cassidy, Wyatt Earp, Destry, Wild Bill Hickock, Lone Ranger, Fastest Gun in the West, Bounty Hunter, Dead or Alive, Lonesome Gun, Rifleman, Texas Ranger, Bat Masterson, Paladin, Cheyenne, Bronco, Sugarfoot, Davy Crockett, Kit Carson and Sheriff of Cochise.

Maybe I snuck a couple in there that never happened, but never mind.

WHAT GETS ME is how all those paragons of physical prowess, independence, self-sufficiency and survival were wiped out with a few flourishes of a pen wielded by some dang-blank dude on Madison Avenue.

This certainly is living (or dying) proof that the pen is mightier than the six-shooter.

How pale are you on drawing your pen, Twill?

Sponsors, agencies and rating boys accomplished in one year what all the Indians, bad men, blizzards and grizzly bears were never able to do. They done in our heroes, that's what they did, the varmints.

By Martin Miller

The moral, if there is one, is never to underestimate a dude.

Of course you know where the sponsors, agencies and rating services put the blame. They put it right on fickle you and me. We should be ashamed of ourselves. I'll feel guilty for you if you will feel guilty for me.

ONE THING about westerns is that if you don't like the actors or the story you can always enjoy the horses and scenery — especially the scenery.

This year on television we have mostly comedies and sleazy crime shows. What will it be next year? If you could pick the right answer, you could make a killing, if you'll pardon the expression.

I had hoped to stay away from politics this one time, but the parallel between the "pen being mightier than the six-shooter" and what you will do with your little pencil in the voting booth Nov. 3 is too good to pass up.

When you go to vote you will be choosing between the good guys and the bad guys.

Frightening, isn't it, what power you will hold in that little pencil of yours. Bang! Somebody's dead.

Faithfully yours,

MAX

A person's throat is an exceedingly busy "canal." Every 15 seconds air swishes through it at about 15 miles an hour. A sneeze or cough rips through at a speed of as much as 200 miles an hour. About 3,000 gallons of oxygen and carbon dioxide pass through, and we swallow about 3,000 times a day.

Bringing Up Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Understanding Needed For Obedience

All living creatures tend to avoid what is painful and to approach what is pleasant. We guide the child best, especially the tot from two to five, by making the few things he should never do and pleasant the many times more things he should do. But our notion of Dr. Garry Myers obedience may cause us to make both painful. Here's how it can happen.

You don't want your tot three or four to play with fire. However, you may want him to pick up his blocks. Perhaps you use pain or implied pain in both instances. But whereas a sharp slap on his thigh might easily cause him to avoid the fire, no amount of like pain might cause him to pick up the blocks. I once heard and saw an angry mother try to make her child, four, pick up the blocks he had dumped on the floor from a pail. She commanded him sternly to pick them up. He shouted, "No, I won't." She spanked him severely.

HE STILL refused to pick up the blocks. She spanked him again and a third time, in vain.

Then, in desperation, she seized one of the child's hands, closed it around a block, put his hand over the pail, released it so as to drop the block. She continued this procedure until all the blocks were back in the pail.

"There!" she said with a sigh, supposing she had forced him to obey her and pick up the blocks.

But she had not. He had not picked up the blocks; she had. She merely used him as a robot, picking up the blocks herself. She probably could never have forced this child to pick up those blocks even if she had beaten him almost to death. If that child had been seven, eight or nine years old, he might have had experiences enough to cause him to choose to pick up the blocks at her command, or her threat of punishment.

IF YOU are a parent of a child from two to four or five, don't command him to do specific acts; ask him instead and try to win his readiness to do it. If you can't, let him choose not to accede to your request. Aim to be more persuasive next time.

If, instead, you command this little child and he doesn't obey, you feel you must force him to obey. If then you fail, see how you have practiced him in stubbornness and disobedience. But you had merely made a request of him and he chose not to accede; he had not disobeyed. You had no occasion to punish him then or even to feel angry at him.

Unfortunately, many a young parent having made a request, having asked this little tot to do something, is disturbed or angry if this child chooses not to accede to the request. Then, alas, the parent is inclined to say, "You must."

IN SUCH an instance she shifted from a request to a command. Bye and bye the youngster so treated supposes that all requests are implied commands. How is he ever to learn to enjoy co-operating? How is he to escape practice in stubbornness?

You have often heard it said that you should not utter to the young child the command don't, or no, but command do or yes instead. A better rule is not to say do or yes, as a command but sometimes to say no or don't.

I find that this very simple principle is about the hardest I have ever tried to cause parents to accept and to observe consistently. I discuss this matter more fully in my bulletin, "Stubbornness: Its Prevention and Correction," which may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Ohio Publisher Reported As In Fair Condition

PORT CLINTON, Ohio (AP)—Robert W. Reider, 48, publisher of the Port Clinton Daily News, was reported in fair condition today in Memorial Hospital at Fremont. A hospital spokesman said the nature of his illness has not been determined.

Reider was hospitalized Saturday night after he was stricken while attending a wedding reception in Fremont.

He also is president of Ohio Radio Inc., which owns and operates radio stations at Port Clinton, Bowling Green, Norwalk and Kenton.

Reider, a former member of the Ohio House of Representatives, is a state Democratic committeeman and was a member of the credentials committee for the 1964 Democratic convention in Atlantic City. He has run unsuccessfully as a candidate for governor and secretary of state of Ohio.

Authorities Probe Death Of Youth, 16

CIRCLEVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Pickaway County authorities are investigating the death of George Nichols Jr., 16, Rt. 1, Mount Sterling. He was struck in the throat Sunday with a blast from a 12-gauge shotgun.

Sheriff Walton Sangler said the gun apparently was being handled by Nichols' half-brother Samuel Carroll, 19. He said the two, and another half-brother, Pearl Nichols, 15, have been close companions. The sheriff said Carroll told him he didn't know the gun was loaded or the hammer cocked.

Deaths and Funerals

Man, 75, Dies At Salineville

SALINEVILLE — Lawn Hall, 75, of Mill St., a World War I veteran, died Saturday at 11:10 p. m. at the Town and Country Nursing Home, where he had been a patient a month. He was born at Antioch, Ohio, April 6, 1889, to the late Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Hall. He lived in the vicinity for 20 years. At one time he was a tool driller at an oil well. His only survivor is his widow, Mrs. Eva Hall, at home. Services will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the Kerr Funeral Home by Gerald Finnie of the Church of Christ. Burial will be in Woodland Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home this afternoon and evening.

Salem Auto Victim's Rites Slated Tuesday

SALEM — Services will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. for Mrs. Mabel B. Sheen, 67, of R. D. 2, who was killed Friday night at Front Royal, Va., when struck by an auto, a tractor-trailer and another car as she walked across a street in Front Royal, Va. The Rev. Bruce Milligan of the First United Presbyterian Church will officiate at the rites at the Arbaugh-Pearce Funeral Home. Friends may call at the funeral home tonight.

Virginia State Police said Mrs. Sheen left a store and started across a street to board a chartered bus on which she was traveling. She stepped from behind a parked vehicle and was hit by the car, then the rig and again by a third car, police said. She was a member of a party that had been on a tour of Washington.

A native of Franklin Square, she was a lifetime resident of the Salem area.

She leaves a daughter, Mrs. Leah Pressocco, with whom she made her home; two sisters, Mrs. Pearl Paduren of Lisbon and Mrs. Nettie Hardy of Salem; and a half-brother, Elba Snyder of Salem R.D.

Halloween Fete Slated For Pughtown Church

The Youth Fellowship of the Fairview United Presbyterian Church of Pughtown will sponsor a Halloween party for the church and church school members Wednesday, Oct. 28, at 7 p. m. in the social rooms.

Those attending are to bring new or used clothing for an Indian family on the Cherokee reservation in Oklahoma. The Youth Fellowship has "adopted" 10-year-old Jackie Gritts of the reservation.

Advisers of the group are Mrs. Juanita Richmond, Mrs. Lucille Miller, Thomas Lilly and the Rev. William Flurkey. Anyone wishing to donate clothing for the project may call Lilly at EV. 7-2192.

Construction Begins On Market At Newell

Construction is proceeding by Floyd C. Cox, East Liverpool contractor, on a new food market of Clarence Broomhall of Newell at 6th and Washington Sts. in Newell.

Broomhall is owner of the Broomhall Market at 5th and Grant Sts., and has been in the grocery store business in Newell 17 years.

The new building of brick and concrete block will provide 7,500 square feet of floor space. It is expected to be ready for occupancy early next year.

Official Investigates Smiths Ferry Mishap

No one apparently was injured in a collision between a car and truck on Route 68 at the Ken Miller Service Station at Smiths Ferry this morning.

Witnesses said a truck pulled out from the service station and collided with the auto. Both vehicles were from West Virginia. Ohioville Police Chief Bernard Zlatovich was investigating.

Small fry usually relish fried chicken legs. You'll find these are good finger-food for a party.

Auto Injures Trio On Cycle

A 13-year-old Pittsburgh boy, one of three whose bicycle was struck by a car on the East Liverpool - Wellsville "super-road" remains in City Hospital today with skull and neck injuries.

Two other boys on the bike which was struck Saturday night near Silver Switch, were released Sunday from the hospital.

John Zogran of Mount Oliver, Pittsburgh, is in "fair" condition with a possible fractured skull, possible neck and spine injuries, laceration of the scalp and multiple abrasions.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said he and two companions — Edwin Ayres, 12, of Pittsburgh and Mark Ayres, 11, a brother—were riding on the bicycle, headed east, when it was struck by an eastbound auto operated by Russell George Sendling, 43, of Shadyside Ave. Sendling was arrested for leaving the scene of an accident and posted a $200 bond for a hearing Thursday in Municipal Court.

The impact caused the bicycle to fly back over the top of the car. A motorist following Sendling had to swerve to avoid hitting the vehicle. Sendling did not stop and was traced through the license number of his car, the patrol said.

The two Ayres boys were admitted to City Hospital with bruises and abrasions and were released Sunday.

Officers indicated the trio apparently had left their homes without their parents' knowledge. The bicycle was owned by Wilmont Grimm of 709 Commerce St., Wellsville, and had been taken without his consent.

East End Man Gets Term As Drunk Driver

An East End motorist was fined and jailed for driving while under the influence of alcohol at a hearing this morning before Judge Samuel Chertoff in Municipal Court.

Austin H. Eastman of Ruth St. was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to five days in jail. The judge also suspended his driver's license for 90 days. Eastman was arrested Sunday at 7:23 p. m. on E. 4th St., police said.

Seven other motorists were fined and two others forfeited bonds today.

John Fritzley of Anderson Blvd. was fined $25 and costs for failure to yield the right-of-way. He was arrested by the State Highway Patrol after an accident Oct. 11 at the intersection of Anderson Blvd. and Park Way. He pleaded no contest.

Jerry A. Seever, 1627 Ohio Ave., was fined $10 and costs for driving a car with one headlight. The court suspended the fine on payment of costs.

He was cited Saturday on Route 7 by the patrol. The arresting officer said the right light of the vehicle was missing.

John E. Shultz of Toronto was fined $5 and costs after pleading guilty to crashing a traffic light on Harvey Ave. Saturday night.

Stanley L. Underwood of Substation was assessed $25 and costs when he pleaded guilty to dropping a load from a truck onto a city street. He was arrested Saturday morning on Broadway. The fine was suspended on payment of costs.

Richard A. Pethtel, 262 W. 9th St., was fined $10 and costs, with the fine suspended, for driving a car without headlights. He pleaded guilty. He was cited Oct. 12 on Route 7.

Jack L. Bradley, 740 Dresden Ave., was fined $5 and costs for failure to make a turn as close as possible. He was cited Friday at 6:35 p. m. on E. 5th St.

Joseph Allen Heiney, 36, of 422 14th St., Wellsville, was fined $15 and costs for speeding on Route 7. He was arrested Thursday night on the "super-road" by the State Patrol for doing 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone. He pleaded no contest.

Homer J. Lewis, 507 15th St., Wellsville, forfeited a $32.50 bond when he failed to appear this morning on a charge of speeding, also filed by the patrol. He was arrested last Monday night on Route 7.

Jacob C. Geer of New Cumberland R. D. 2 forfeited a $32.50 bond when he failed to appear this morning on a charge of speeding. He was arrested Saturday night on Route 7 by the patrol for doing 70 miles an hour.

Judge Scalera Cited

BEAVER — Beaver County Judge Ralph E. Scalera, formerly of Midland, was one of three named as "outstanding young men in Pennsylvania" at the annual convention of the Pennsylvania Junior Chamber of Commerce, Saturday in Washington.

Johnson

Moscow high command means at least four things for Americans:

First—the men in the Kremlin "remain dedicated, dangerous Communists" and the United States must maintain "steady vigilance" at a time of trouble in the Communist bloc because U.S. strength "holds the balance firm against danger."

Second — "There will be turmoil in the Communist world." But the President said that the preoccupation of Kremlin chiefs with Communist problems is not all bad "because men who are busy with internal problems may not be tempted to reckless external acts."

Third — The forces working for greater independence in Communist-governed Eastern Europe "will continue to have our sympathy" and he added: "We will not give up our hope of building new bridges to these people."

Fourth — The course now followed by the United States "must continue to prove that we on our side are ready to get on with the work of peace."

Johnson recalled that on Friday he was officially informed through Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin that the new Kremlin regime planned no change in basic Soviet foreign policy. He said that in reply he had spoken frankly to the Soviet envoy.

"I told him," Johnson said, "that the quest for peace in America had never been more determined than it is now. I told him we intend to bury no one, and we do not intend to be buried. I reminded the ambassador of the danger we all faced two years ago in Cuba."

"I told him that any Soviet government which is ready to work for peace will find us ready in America."

Fires

Ave. Firemen spent two hours battling the flames.

It was ignited again shortly after midnight Saturday and firemen were recalled. They remained for another two hours.

A check was made of the entire area in an attempt to discover if any sparks were left.

THE FIRE then rekindled Sunday afternoon at 3:30. By this time, it had burned around the hillside to the rear of Highland Ave.

It was so dry it was almost impossible to completely extinguish the flames, according to Fire Chief Robert Lewis. No homes were seriously endangered.

Firemen also extinguished a grass fire Saturday at 5:30 p. m. along the Pennsylvania Railroad right-of-way near the old Boring Underpass. It apparently was ignited by a hot spark from a passing diesel locomotive.

Four area departments battled a woods fire along the Stage Coach Rd. off the Smiths Ferry - Calcutta Rd. Sunday afternoon and night.

THE DIXONVILLE station of the Liverpool Township department received the first call at 3:10 p. m.

Then the Glenmoor and Calcutta departments were summoned and the LaCroft department was called to aid later in the day.

Firemen remained on the scene until about midnight battling the blaze. The rain aided in finally putting it out. Firemen said the fire was burning beneath the surface in a heavy accumulation of leaves.

Bob McIntosh of Scio, state forestry district warden, and Charles Heffner of near Wellsville, area warden, directed the operations.

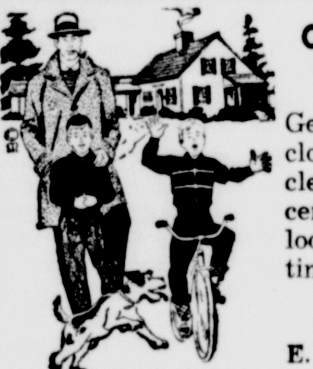

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dynex®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

FALSE TEETH

That Loosen

Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

Miss Manning, D. L. Rose Wed In Lisbon Area Rites

St. Jacob's United Church of Christ near Lisbon was the setting Saturday evening for the wedding of Miss Linda Darlene Manning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Manning of Lisbon R.D. 5, and David Lynn Rose, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rose of Adams Rd., Lisbon.

The Rev. William V. Ring performed the double ring ceremony at 7:30 o'clock. The bride and bridegroom pledged their vows before the altar decorated by palms, schefferas and ivy, with large vases of white chrysanthemums and seven-branch candleabra on either side. White satin bows marked the bridal aisle.

Mrs. John Schnader sang "I Love You Truly," "I Walk Beside You" and "Wedding Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. Ed Mitchell, organist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of chantilly lace over taffeta, designed with a fitted bodice and long tapered sleeves. Irrescent sequins and seed pearls edged the scalloped sabrina neckline and defined each scalloped tier of the full bouffant skirt, with a detachable overskirt flowing into a chapel train. Her veil of silk illusion was held by a crown of lace and pearl petals. She carried a white Bible on which was placed an arrangement of white orchids and white snowdrift pom-poms.

Miss Diana Kelly, cousin of the bride, served as maid of honor. Miss Lynn Kelly was bridesmaid for her cousin and Miss Renee Manning, the bride's sister, was junior bridesmaid.

The maid of honor wore a floor length gown of turquoise satin, fashioned with full pleats which fell from a bow at the waist. A matching Dior bow held the pouf veil and she carried a basket arrangement of yellow and white pom-poms.

The other attendants wore gowns styled like that of the maid of honor in gold satin, matching Dior bows and veils, and carried basket arrangements of bronze and yellow pom-poms.

Allison Kelly, cousin of the bride, was flower girl, attired in a turquoise gown to match the dress of the maid of honor. Jeff Manning, the bride's brother, was ring bearer.

Glen Rose served as best man for his brother and ushers were Kim Manning, brother of the bride, and Gary Peruchetti.

Bishop Mussio Reports

Points Of Likeness Cited In Catholics, Protestants

By BISHOP MUSSIO OF STEUBENVILLE DIOCESE

Between Protestants and Catholics there are many differences. For centuries we have been throwing these differences at one another with a rancor that expanded these differences far beyond their importance. We allowed these differences to distort the true position of each side, to blow up historical incidents into real incendiary ammunition for purposes other than forwarding the Word of God. And all the while, well-intentioned Christian men and women wondered and knew that Christ could never approve such a spirit among those who claim Him as their own. Today we walk towards each other, ecumenically and discover that Protestants and Catholics have powerful points of likeness. First of all, we both have Christ. If we cannot walk as brothers in the fullness of Christ-ianity then we read Christ all wrong. We confess together that Christ is our Lord and the only mediator between God and man.

Despite divergent views regarding various aspects of our relationship to Christ we walk the path together, seeing Christ as our life, our light our way. We see each other as brothers of Christ.

We both have the Sacred Scriptures, the Word of God. True, there are differences in our understanding of the Bible and its relationship to the Church. Yet, for the most part, we both find in Scripture those things Christ taught and did for our salvation. The day is not too far off when we shall have a common Bible.

Goodwill on both sides will accomplish this. We will read the same Scripture together, not trying to find arguments one against the other, but rather to better form the image of God, the image of Christ in ourselves and each other.

We both hold to Baptism and the Lord's Supper as a fulfillment of the Will of Christ. We might differ in understanding how this is accomplished, but we both try to do what Christ wants of us. We participate in these sacraments with that motive.

Both of us see our faith as a molding of a Christian way of life and if we strive to love Christ with pure, unmixed motives, we will find ourselves working together in harmony and good will.

We have seen the fruits of this accomplished in the Ohio Valley. The people of this territory are blessed with religious leaders, practical men of the gospel.

They are hard workers, deeply in love with their calling, pastors, ministers, clergy who will let nothing stand in the way of accomplishing good for their people. I am convinced that ecumenicism is nothing else but the outward expression of what every man of good will feels inside. It is time to take the cover off the candle of love and let its light shine outward.

We shall meet each other in the full spirit of our sacred calling, we will speak frankly without arousing old antagonisms, we will help one another without surrender of principles, we will pray together in full confidence that Christ will find our common prayer most acceptable.

It has been recorded that the early Christians were known by the love they had for each other. I am ashamed that this is not the sign of our own times. Let us grow into Christian maturity by letting that ancient sign be again the sign of our mutual closeness to Christ. Without hesitation, without uncertainty, let us greet each other as brothers.

Ecumenicism isn't just a word, it is the spirit of God making His truth evident in our lives.

Young Asks 'Position Papers' On Debates

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Democratic Sen. Stephen M. Young of Cleveland says he and his Republican opponent for the Senate, Rep. Robert Taft Jr. of Cincinnati, should issue "position papers" before they begin their television debates so they will have time to discuss other matters.

Young sent a telegram to Taft over the weekend suggesting such papers. He said the subjects should be conflict of interest and social security. Taft has ignored previous suggestions by Young for such papers.

Women's Group To Enter Federation's Flag Project

Plans to participate in an Ohio Federation's flag project were decided at the meeting of the Junior Women's Club Thursday night with Mrs. Ralph Turner of the Campground Rd.

The group will purchase 50-star flags for members to promote the Federation theme, "Patterns for Patriots — A Flag In Every Home."

Mrs. Turner, president, conducted business with reports heard from Mrs. Donald Chamberlain, recording secretary; Mrs. Dale Channels, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Donald Pelley, treasurer.

Devotions were conducted by Mrs. John Allison.

On recommendation of the Executive Board, the group gave contributions to the Child Counseling Center, the Ohio Federation and the General Federation.

It was reported a mat and pillows have been purchased for the Cerebral Palsy Nursery School at the Mary Patterson Memorial.

Mrs. Ernest Bates and Mrs. Robert Milby were named to the executive committee. The club approved purchasing The Ohio Heritage magazine and endorsed the renewal of the City Hospital levy.

Announcement was made of the City Federation of Women's Clubs meeting Oct. 28 at the Mary Patterson Memorial and the Jaycee-ettes style show Nov. 11 at the Elks Club ballroom.

The project committee announced Christmas wrapping paper, cards and candles will be sold. It was reported there are six active members in the City Hospital Auxiliary Twig.

Toledo Surgeon New Cancer Society Head

CLEVELAND (AP) — Dr. Spencer W. Northrup, Toledo surgeon, is the new president of the Ohio Division of the American Cancer Society, which directs expenditure of $2 million a year in cancer control programs within the state.

He announced Sunday election of 18 new division trustees, including: Dr. C. F. Wharton, Akron; J. Peter Ducro, Ashtabula; Dr. Bernard Black, Athens; C. P. Saunders, Canton; Mrs. Emmett Arnold and Arthur G. James, Columbus; Dr. Jack L. Harris, Middletown; Dr. Paul Mesaros, Steubenville; Gordon Jeffrey, Toledo; Dr. Paul W. Pifer, Warren; Jack J. Fisher, Wooster, and Fred B. King Jr., Youngstown.

Industry PTA Alters Date, Place Of Event

A change has been announced in the date and place of a fashion show and card party sponsored by the Industry Parent-Teacher Association.

The event will be held Wednesday, Nov. 4, in the St. Christine Church Hall in Industry instead of Nov. 5 at Logan School.

The Tot-To-Teen Shop in Midland will present the fashion show with school children as models. Bridge, 500, pinocle and bunco will be in play. Refreshments and table prizes will be featured.

Jaycees' Conference To Draw 100 Tuesday

Some 100 are expected to attend the District 20 conference of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Tuesday at 6:30 p. m. at the Casting Club.

The local Jaycees will serve as hosts. Robert Lewis of East Liverpool, district vice president, will conduct business.

State Jaycee officials planning to attend include Ray Kenyon, membership chairman; Jim Williams, Region 8 national director; Larry Burt, internal vice president, and Ty Brook, external vice president.

Gary White is in charge of the session.

Humphrey Says No Security Leak In Jenkins' Incident

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. knows of no security leak in the case of Walter W. Jenkins who resigned last week as a top assistant to President Johnson following disclosure of two arrests on morals charges in five years.

Humphrey made the statement at a news conference Sunday in Tampa, Fla., when asked if the case did not show a weakness in security and whether Jenkins, because of his police record, would not have been open to blackmail.

The Democratic vice presidential nominee said the situation was a great personal and family tragedy for Jenkins, but he knew of no security leak or weakness.

"If there had been, we would have heard about it," he said. Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon said the Secret Service issued Jenkins a White House pass in 1961 after receiving a one-line report from the FBI showing that on Jan. 16, 1959, the FBI received Jenkins' fingerprints from the District of Columbia police on a charge of "Inv Sup Person" — investigation suspicious person.

"No disposition of the charge was shown, and there was no further indication of the nature of the charge," Dillon said in a letter to Nicholas deB. Katzenbach, acting attorney general.

Dillon said the head of the Secret Service section involved "did not evaluate the FBI criminal report as involving a serious matter" and it was not brought to the attention of higher Secret Service officers, any member of the White House staff, or then Vice President Johnson, for whom Jenkins worked as administrative assistant.

The Secret Service, Dillon noted, already had been informed by the White House that Jenkins held since 1958 a top secret clearance, giving him access to secret information about nuclear weapons and materials.

Dillon has been directed by President Johnson to investigate and report to him why the Secret Service failed to tell the White House about Jenkins' 1959 arrest.

A second arrest earlier this month — also involving an incident in the local YMCA — was disclosed last week.

Beaver County United Fund Attains 66 Per Cent Of Goal

BEAVER — With $552,513 already collected or pledged, representing 66 per cent of the $831,327 goal, the annual appeal of the Beaver County United Fund is moving into its third week.

The fund supports 43 volunteer agencies that assist 30,000 Beaver Countians annually.

The Upper Beaver Valley area still leads in area reporting with 76 per cent of its $184,114 goal in hand. Ambridge follows close behind having achieved 72 per cent of a $118,077 goal. The Aliquippa area is next with 71 per cent reported on a goal of $276,874. Midland area has 58 per cent of its $59,788 goal and the campaign among countywide companies stands at 58 per cent of a $34,634 goal.

"Our 1964 campaign is proceeding on schedule," according to Joseph N. Tosh, campaign chairman. "In our campaign planning we expected to be at 65 per cent at this point. Although we are running a little bit ahead, we cannot be complacent. With two-thirds of our goal in hand, the really difficult assignment for the 4,000 volunteers is still facing them."

"Presently most gifts of the major corporations and their employees are in. During the next two or three weeks we must concentrate on raising an additional $278,000. Our campaign cannot be a partial success — it must be totally successful in order to fully assist those many thousands of people depending on United Fund agencies for help."

The coming week will provide a flurry of campaign activity. Each of the eight local area United Funds affiliated with the county group will hold report meetings as follows: On Monday, the Beaver Area will meet at 8 p. m. in the Beaver Trust Co. and the Midland Area at 7:30 in the Midland High School. On Tuesday, the Aliquippa Area will hold its third report luncheon in Villa's Inn. On Wednesday, the Central Beaver Valley Area will meet at noon in the Conway Yards YMCA; the Upper Beaver Valley Area at noon in the Beaver Valley Country Club, and the Ambridge Area at 7:30 p. m. in the Harmony Township Fire Hall. On Thursday, Rochester will hold its second meeting at 8:30 a. m. in the Penn-Beaver Hotel and Monaca at 8 p. m. in the Turners Club.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I've been reading your column for a long time and have concluded that husbands seem to be the biggest problem. My formula may not work for one other wife in the whole world, but it worked for me and I'd like to share it.

Ten years ago my husband began to get up 5:30 a.m. to go to work. He wasn't due at the plant until 7:30 a.m. and we lived within walking distance. I couldn't figure it out.

One morning when he left the house at dawn I followed him. He went straight into the home of a woman I knew well. I saw her through the dining room window — wearing a shabby, soiled bathrobe, hair a mess, the house plain filthy. Glasses, dishes, ashtrays and bottles were strewn all over. Clothes and papers were piled in corners.

That evening when my husband came home for supper I was waiting for him. I had fished out of the rag bag a filthy housecoat—one which had been used as a floor mop. I messed up my hair, swept the kitchen garbage into the living room and scattered papers and junk all over the place.

When my husband saw me and the house he almost collapsed. I greeted him cheerfully with, "Dearest, why didn't you tell me you like this sort of thing?"

He made no attempt to defend himself. He swore he had learned his lesson and asked me to forgive him.

That was 10 years ago and I've never had a minute's trouble with him since.—MORE THAN ONE WAY TO SKIN A CAT.

Dear One: Some cats don't need skinning. They just need to be converted from Tom cats to House cats. Congratulations on effecting the conversion.

Tell Mother

Dear Ann: I will be 15 years old in a few weeks. For the past year I have been baby-sitting in the neighborhood. I have over $74 in the bank. This baby sitting money is what I am going to college on, so please don't tell me to stop.

The people I sit for almost every Friday night are very nice—or I should say the lady and the children are nice. The man got fresh with me last night when he was walking me home.

It was not my imagination, Ann. He asked me how I would like to have a movie-type kiss.

I was scared out of my wits and walked as fast as I could to keep ahead of him.

I know his wife will call me again soon. I don't want to sit for them any more but what can I say? Please rush your advice.—ALMOST FIFTEEN.

Dear Almost: Tell your mother at once. If she wants to discuss this with the man or his wife it's up to her, but you should not be involved.

Obviously you can't sit for these people again. And please don't discuss the incident with your friends. It could be harmful to the mother and her children.

It's No Joke

Dear Ann: Should a mother spank a person the second time if the first time she spanks him he laughs?

Thank you. I am from Toronto, Canada. Yours truly.—P.C.C.

Dear P.C.C.: A person who laughs when he gets spanked gives his mother the idea the spanking is not accomplishing anything—that it is a joke. His mother then is inclined to give him a second spanking which she hopes will not be so funny. And usually it isn't.

City's Firemen Quell Fire In Clothes Drier

An electric clothes drier was damaged heavily in one of three fires extinguished by city firemen over the weekend.

The drier fire was Saturday at 3:27 p.m. at the home of Mrs. H. C. Keys, 340 E. 8th St. The basement was filled with smoke, firemen said.

A short circuit caused damage to the wiring of a car owned by Ralph DeLong, 1806 Montana Ave., Sunday at 12:15 p.m. Firemen disconnected the battery.

A grass fire was extinguished Sunday night at 7:56 at Andrews Ave. and Holliday St. in Oakland. Children started the blaze, firemen said.

Space Expert Gives Opinion

50-50 Chance Given U.S.
For Winning Moon Race

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States still has a 50-50 chance of beating the Russians in the first manned spacecraft landing and takeoff on the moon, in the opinion of a U.S. space expert.

Dr. Edward C. Welsh, acting director and executive secretary of the National Aeronautics and Space Council, conceded the Oct. 12 three-man Soviet orbital flight demonstrates that the Russians are ahead.

But he said Sunday in an interview on Radio Press International's "From the People" program that it is not likely the spacecraft was very much heavier than other spacecraft, and he doubted the booster would have to be as strong as the U.S. Saturn rocket.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S.S. Croatan, a World War II escort aircraft carrier, will be the nation's first floating rocket launch pad.

The vessel, staffed with civil service personnel, will be taken on a shakedown cruise this fall to test equipment intended to launch more than 40 scientific packages to altitudes of 170 miles or more during a three-month expedition.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A news media steering committee has been recommended by a group of news executives to consider various aspects of the Warren Commission's criticism of the coverage of events in Dallas, Tex., following the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

The commission, headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, reproached the news media for "lack of self discipline" and suggested a code of conduct for covering legal proceedings without interfering with criminal investigations.

Representatives of five news organizations discussing the Warren report suggested that a committee be established to conduct meetings for the exchange of ideas on mass coverage of a major event, pool coverage in special situations, and whether the public right to know might be impaired by codes or other restrictions on news coverage.

School Children
To Urge Adults
To Vote Nov. 3

NEW YORK (AP) — A nationwide, nonpartisan effort will be made next week by school children to induce more adults to cast ballots in the Nov. 3 election.

In the campaign announced Sunday, teams of school children will canvass their neighborhoods on a door-to-door basis seeking pledges from adults that they will vote.

The program will be sponsored jointly by the American Heritage Foundation, the Parent Teacher Association and the National Education Association.

Cartoonist Al Capp suggested the campaign in a letter to former Presidents Harry S. Truman and Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The teams will wear no political insignia and they will be required to promise not to make mention of politics.

When that recipe says to "cover" yeast dough, just use a clean cloth.

TUSKEGEE, Ala. — What started as a repair project has developed into an interesting hobby for H. C. Taylor. It began when he decided to use old automobile license plates as covering for a children's playhouse. Taylor got so interested in the plates that he decided to save them and now has more than 3,000 old tags — one from every state and several from foreign countries.

Teachers Group Supports Levies In Beaver Local

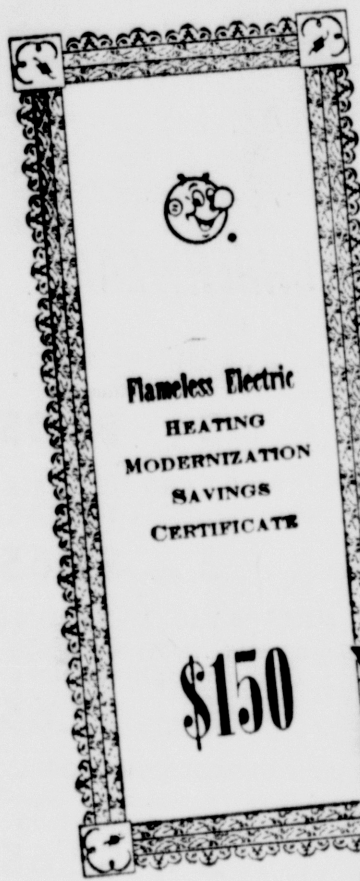

The Beaver Local Teachers Association announced today it has endorsed the two proposed levies for the Beaver Local District.

Officials urged voter support for the renewal of a 1.6-mill levy and a new 5.4 mill levy for school operations.

Delegates to a county teachers "drive-in" conference slated for Wednesday night at Lisbon will be Mr. and Mrs. Mark Manning, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Baker and Mrs. Wilma Guy.

Manning is president. Two new officers have been elected by the association. They are Mrs. Janet Baker, secretary, and Frank Sturgeon, treasurer. The association will meet Nov. 5.

Passenger, 21, Hurt

Motorist Sought In Negley Crash

A 21-year-old Negley area man is in Salem City Hospital today, one of 10 persons injured in 15 traffic mishaps across Columbiana County over the weekend, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

Officers today were seeking the identity of the driver of a car in which Warner Andrew Zalick of the Negley - East Palestine Rd. was injured Sunday night on Route 154 just east of Negley.

The patrol said Zalick was a passenger in the 1953 auto whose driver lost control after passing another car, the auto veering off the road and hitting a concrete wall about 11 p. m.

ZALICK suffered a laceration of the head, scalp, face and left knee. The patrol said the driver left the scene on foot.

Officers said traffic in the district was very heavy yesterday.

Tommy Lee Kreshun, 18, of East Palestine R.D. 1 was injured yesterday when his car collided with another on Hinesy Rd. near Unity, then overturned, the patrol said.

The youth, who suffered multiple lacerations and abrasions, was traveling on the wrong side of the road and tried to cut back on the correct side when he lost control.

HIS COUPE collided with a station wagon operated by John Zundel, 39, of 1876 N. Market St., East Palestine, then went off the roadway, hit an embankment and rolled over.

Irene Bentley, 14, of Salineville R. D. 1 and Vicki Sanders, 15, of Thomas Rd., Lisbon, were injured when the car in which they were passengers was struck by one operated by a city man on Route 39 a mile west of Wellsville Saturday.

NANCY MARIE Bentley, 17, of Salineville R. D. 1 was driver of the 1964 Corvair which was rammed by one driven by Austin Eastham, 20, of Ruth St., East Liverpool, who did not halt, the patrol said.

Eastham later was charged with leaving the scene of an accident and failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

The two girls suffered whip-lash injuries of the neck, the patrol reported.

TWO DRIVERS escaped serious injury in a collision of trucks on Route 7 about two miles south of Rogers Saturday afternoon.

Robert Wilton Boggs, 38, of Columbiana was making a left turn into a private drive when his truck was struck by a tractor-trailer rig whose driver, Harry Robert Ohl, 41, of Titusville, Pa., was attempting to pass. The smaller truck was demolished and the rig received extensive damage, the officers said.

Donna Mae Shawl, 18, of Meredith St. was uninjured when her 1962 car went off the right side of a curve on Township Rd. 926 Sunday about 8:15 p. m., hit a tree then struck a concrete abutment, officers reported.

A HORSE owned by a Columbiana area man was killed when struck by a car operated by Richard Smith, 17, of Columbiana on County Rd. 420 two miles north of Route 558 Saturday night.

Officers said Smith swerved to miss one horse on the highway but struck another and killed it. The crash caused extensive damage to the 1956 auto.

The horse was owned by John Brode of Columbiana R. D. 2. Charles Hazelbaker, 18, of Salem R. D. 2 was cited for speeding after his auto veered off Route 172 near Guilford Lake and overturned onto the Valley Springs Golf Course Saturday at 11:40 p. m.

RUTH DICK, 49, of Hanoverton was charged with driving left of center after her car went out of control on a curve of Route 30 about a half mile west of Lisbon Saturday and collided with a station wagon driven by Robert Franklin Brown, 53, of 217 W. Washington St., Lisbon. Damage was moderate, officers said.

No one was injured in a collision on Route 30 about two miles north of East Liverpool Sunday afternoon at 6, the patrol said.

A car operated by Richard Dunlap, 41, of Vienna was passing an auto driven by Wendell Matheny, 29, of Louisville who was hauling a boat trailer, when the two vehicles sideswiped.

LaCroft Firemen Set Session For Tuesday

The Liverpool Township, West, volunteer fire department will meet Tuesday night at 7:30 at the LaCroft station.

The meetings had been held in the past on Wednesday nights. Jack Clutter, president, will preside.

The West department was called Sunday at 11 a. m. to the home of Carl King of Hoffman estates when his car caught fire from a short circuit in the starter. About $100 damage resulted.

2 In City Masonic Unit Visit Charter Member

Two officers of John Washington Masonic Lodge visited Sunday with William Veals of Cleveland, one of only three surviving charter members of the East End lodge.

Luke Thornton, worshipful master, and Joseph Porter, past master, made the trip to visit Veals, who marked his 88th birthday anniversary Friday. He has been ill since March. He resides with a daughter, Mrs. Fred Crinshaw of Cleveland, and lived in East Liverpool for about 60 years.

John Washington Lodge will meet tonight at 8 at the lodge hall.

Los Angeles Area Banks Target Of Many Holdups

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "This is nitroglycerin," said the bank bandit, nervously brandishing a small bottle of colorless fluid. "Give me all your money!"

Then, accidentally, he dropped the bottle.

It broke, spilling tap water on the marble floor.

"Oh, darn," said the bandit, as bank employees closed in and grabbed him.

It was one of the two bank robberies which occur, according to FBI statistics, every three banking days in Los Angeles County.

For Los Angeles, bankers will tell you as their eyes rove nervously over the lobby, is the bank robbery capital of the nation.

Police say that so far this year bandits have taken more than a quarter of a million dollars from banks in the city. Outlying areas have lost more.

Despite the ineptness of some of the bandits, most get some money.

"See that worker in the wheel chair?" asked a bank official pointing across the firm's executive office. "He was a trainee teller who was shot and paralyzed because he didn't move fast enough for a bandit.

"That's why we stress strict compliance. We tell our employees: 'Try and remember what he looks like. But do what he says.'"

Once the bandit walks out of the bank with his loot — a one-teller robbery is rarely good for more than $1,000 — his trouble starts.

The Bank of America has a security system that includes a hidden movie camera, triggered by the teller, which takes the robber's picture.

Public awareness of the problem also helps.

One amateur was captured when a woman customer, parking in the bank's lot, thought it strange that a man with a sack climbed into the trunk of his car and closed the lid. She told police, who flushed out the man.

Snow Plow Delivered For Franklin's Truck

SUMMITVILLE — Delivery and installation of a new snow plow and ash spreader on the Franklin Township truck was reported at a meeting of the township trustees Saturday afternoon.

Adrian Pitts of County Line Rd. asked for widening of the approach to his lane where the Southern Local School bus turns. Trustees approved.

John Wingo, president, was absent. Forrest Thompson, vice president, was in charge. Bills totaling $188 were paid.

Fall Off Bicycle Injures Boy, 14

A Chester area boy was admitted Sunday at Osteopathic Hospital with a shoulder injury received in a fall, while two others were treated for lacerations Saturday.

Richard Haynes, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Haynes of Shepherd Valley, Chester R.D. 1, is in "satisfactory" condition with a possible fractured shoulder received in a fall from his bicycle.

Jeffrey Jernigan, 4, son of Mrs. Judy Jernigan, 1133 Buckeye Ave., Wellsville, was treated Saturday for a laceration of the forehead received when struck with a ball bat. Doris Dowling, 30, 1519 Chester Ave., Wellsville, was treated for a laceration of the second finger of the left hand received on a power lawnmower.

Rep. Hays Will Speak At Meeting In France

Rep. Wayne L. Hays, 18th Ohio District congressman, announced today he has accepted an invitation to address the Consultative Assembly of the Council of Europe in Strasbourg, France, Nov. 6.

The Council of Europe is composed of the European NATO Nations plus neutral nations who do not belong to NATO. The congressman said he is the first member of either the House of Representatives or the Senate to address the body. He will leave for Strasbourg on Nov. 4.

The invitation was extended by the Executive Committee and the president, Pierre Pflimlin, former prime minister of France, who also is a deputy in the French Chamber of deputies and mayor of the City of Strasbourg.

Intruder Takes Tools, Soft Drinks In Garage

Anthony Ferlano, 2031 Michigan Ave., told police Sunday night an intruder entered the garage at the rear of his home sometime between 11 a. m. Saturday and 10:15 p. m. yesterday and stole eight picks and shovels and five cases of soft drinks.

Mrs. Stephen Keuper, 219 E. 3rd St., told officers two windshield wiper blades and a wiper arm were stolen from her 1956 model auto while it was parked in front of her home between 4 a. m. and 4:40 p. m. Sunday.

Officers said an unsuccessful attempt was made sometime Sunday to enter a building in the Nathan Alpern scrap yard on Pennsylvania Ave. The would-be intruder broke a latch on a door on the west side of the structure, officers said.

Real Cool Cat

PAWNEE ROCK, Kan. — For a time, Sam was a real cool cat. While the refrigerator door at Mrs. George Weirauch's house was left open, Sam hopped in to browse around. Someone shut the door and Mrs. Weirauch figured Sam could be off for about 16 hours before she found him — a little stiff but a lot wiser — and set him free.

Twelve PTA officers from Hancock County attended the 42nd annual convention of the West Virginia Congress Wednesday through Friday at Bluefield, when Mrs. John Stankiewicz of Weirton was presented an honorary national life membership.

The honor was bestowed by the 15 PTA units in Hancock for her time and efforts in promoting the welfare of children and youth.

Weirton Heights unit placed second in the state for the promotion of the official PTA magazine and was awarded a plaque. The unit also received certificate for selling 75 or more magazines. Other magazine awards went to Marland Heights, Cove, New Cumberland and Broadview and New Cumberland received a blue seal certificate for promoting the West Virginia PTA Bulletin.

Mrs. Horace H. Johnson, vice president of Region II, was principal speaker. P. Allistair MacKinnon of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare was banquet speaker.

Attending from Hancock were Mrs. Charles Wagner of Chester, Mrs. Claudius Ford of New Cumberland, president of County Council, Mrs. Richard Suza and Mrs. John Selip of Cove, Mrs. Carl Di Santis of Marland Heights, Mrs. Austin Ford of New Cumberland, Mrs. Robert Golden and Mrs. Eugene Cox of Pughtown, Mrs. George Starr and Mrs. Ben Costello of Weirton Heights, Mrs. Anthony Di-Bart of Weir High and Mrs. Ted Cwiczynski of Weir Junior High.

The next convention will be held at Parkersburg in October 1965 at the home town of Mrs. Clyde Webb, president of the state congress.

175 Attend Fete Of Oriental Band

Some 175 attended the 10th anniversary celebration of the Oriental Shrine Band Saturday at a dinner-dance at the IBOP Headquarters near Williamsport.

An initiation ceremony for nine new members preceded the event at the Casting Club.

Guests included Clark Joy, Potentate of the Al Koran Temple of Cleveland and his divan, and Paul Chevellard, Allan Knight and Roland Wolcott, all of Cleveland, past potentates. Wives of members also were among the guests.

Earl Roush, president of the band and general chairman of the event, presided. Music was provided by the Trum Drum Little Symphony of Massillon.

Patrol Continues Hunt For 3 In Auto Mishap

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon today continued investigation of a collision near Calcutta Friday night in which the driver and two companions fled from one of the autos.

A car driven by Silas Eckenrodt, 41, of New Cumberland was struck in the rear on Route 30 near the intersection with Route 170, and the three in the other auto ran away.

Officers said the auto was owned by William Smith, 306 Broadway, East Liverpool.

Rite Attracts 400 At Home Of VFW Post

Over 400 attended the dedication rite at the new $65,000 home of Pvt. Eddy VFW Post 66 on Blakeley St. Saturday, including the dinner-dance that climaxed the event.

The dedication ceremony began at 5 p. m. with a group from the High School Band playing "America" and "The Star Spangled Banner" during the flag raising exercise, led by Willis O. Hall, first Ohio commander of the VFW.

The color guard included a group from the Columbiana York Drexler VFW Post 552, headed by Cletus Luther. The flag salute was led by William L. Grier, local commander.

Richard W. Homan of Sugar Grove, W. Va., past commander of the West Virginia Department, spoke at the dedication.

Congratulatory remarks were given by Dr. John Wasyluk of Sandusky, Ohio department commander. The closing prayer was given by Fr. Warren F. Braun of Leontonia, past national chaplain.

Dr. Wasyluk spoke at the banquet, which was attended by about 215. He urged the continued participation in civic affairs.

A feature during the banquet was presentation of a recognition plaque to Grier, by Dr. Wasyluk for his efforts in saving a 13-year-old boy at Lake Samary near Glenmoor last May.

Warren Torrance was toastmaster and the benediction was given by Robert Baur, past chaplain. Music was provided by the Tempos.

Teacher Will Address Conservation District

LISBON — Mark Manning of Lisbon, teacher at Beaver Local High School, will speak on "Conservation Education" at the annual meeting of the Columbiana County Soil and Water Conservation District Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at the First Methodist Church.

Manning will replace W. E. Wescott of Wintersville, who is hospitalized. Manning attended a conservation school last summer on a scholarship furnished by local banks and the conservation district.

Dawson Irey of Guilford Lake will be the master of ceremonies.

Trial Begins In Car Death

LISBON — A jury was being selected late this morning in the Common Pleas Court trial of William R. Hibbs, 22, of 190 W. Clark St., East Palestine, indicted for second degree manslaughter in the traffic death of Robert William Bolam, 19, of East Palestine last May 16.

At the time of the accident, the State Highway Patrol alleged that Hibbs, going west on Route 14, went left of center on a curve on Firestone Hill, east of Route 14, and struck an oncoming car driven by Carolyn Boyle, 25, of East Liverpool.

All occupants of the two cars were injured. Besides Hibbs, Boyle and Joseph Chan of East Liverpool, they were Virgil Felger, 21, East Palestine, and Nancy Evans, 19, Kathleen Rusco, 16, and Georgette Cunningham, 15, all of the New Waterford area.

Hibbs pleaded not guilty to the indictment Sept. 30 and is free on $1,000 bond.

Atty. John Bauknecht of East Palestine represents Hibbs. Prosecutor William Brokaw and his assistant, Joseph Baronzi, are handling the state's case, with Judge Raymond S. Buzzard presiding.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures expected to average 5-10 degrees below normal. Normal highs and lows are Cleveland 59-38, Columbus 62-40 and Cincinnati 65-44. A little warmer Wednesday and Thursday, then turning colder again. Precipitation will average a tenth of an inch or less southwest and a quarter of an inch northeast, except locally heavier near Lake Erie. Light showers southwest near end of week and periods of light showers or snow flurries northeast most days.

By IDA JEAN KAIN

The Mystery Of Dress Size Versus Weight

There is no average American figure. We are either shorter, taller, thicker or thinner than the so-called mythical average. It's surprising that dress manufacturers can make clothes as ready-to-wear as they are. When ladies of assorted weights and shapes compare dress sizes, the figures are unbelievable.

LET'S TRY to clear up the dress-size - versus - weight mystery.

First clue: There is a weight range within which you can wear a certain size dress. The standard number of pounds between sizes depends on structure. In the large size dress category there is a 16-pound difference from one size to the next; in the medium size range it's a 12 to 15 pound difference; and in small sizes a 10-pound difference.

Specifically, this means that you can wear a dress at varying weights within your dress size category and still be assured of a reasonable fit.

Second clue: The number of pounds to your next dress size depends on how near you are to the top weight limit on your present size. Manufacturers, catering to millady's vanity, make dress sizes on the basis of median weight, which is within a few pounds of the weight limit of that size.

The telling clue: If you are crowding the seams of the size you now wear, or if your present size requires easing here and there, alas, you are bordering on the next size category. In order to fit into a dress a size smaller, you would need to slim down all the pounds between your size and the next smaller. This could be from 10 pounds to 16-plus pounds, depending on your size category.

KNOWING the facts regarding sizes can keep the dieter from giving up when the goal is three - fourths accomplished. For example: Supposing your goal is to wear a size 16 instead of an 18. If you reduce 10 pounds and still cannot fit into that coveted size 16, you will know that with 6 more pounds off you'll have it made, neatly.

If you are in the medium size range, you may be able to gain 12 to 16 pounds before you are absolutely forced to graduate to the larger size. Here again the number you can gain without changing your size depends on your present size.

It may be cold comfort, but there are no more pounds between sizes coming down the scale than there were going up. Send stamped, self-addressed, long envelope for Perfect Dress Size Chart and Ideal Weight Chart For Women. Address request to Ida Jean Kain, care of The Review. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Ohio Photographer Wounded By Viet Red

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — James Pickerell, a freelance photographer who has served in South Viet Nam for about a year, was shot through the leg today by a Viet Cong soldier while on an operation in the Mekong River delta.

The photographer, 28, from Wilmington, Ohio, was on assignment for The Associated Press when he was hit. His closest relative is his mother, Mrs. Frances Pickerell, who lives in Wilmington.

Pickerell had accompanied a series of "Eagle Flight" helicopter operations from the delta town of Vinh Long this morning. Pickerell said the first indication he had of trouble was on seeing a Vietnamese dressed in white shirt with dark trousers aiming a rifle at him. Pickerell ducked around a hut, but the man fired through the hut, hitting Pickerell.

Brown Asks Belmont Vote Board Hearing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Secretary of State Ted W. Brown asked the Belmont County Election Board today to call a hearing for all precinct officials who served in the May primary election in Pultney Township's Precinct 4.

Brown said he requested the hearing because of repeated complaints about the manner in which precinct officials conducted their polling place in the May 5 primary.

The secretary of state said he plans to attend the hearing, on a date to be set by the board.

Ohio's Outdoor Fair, Festival Season To End

CIRCLEVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's outdoor fair and festival season draws to a close this week with one that rivals the State Fair in attention and interest—the Pumpkin Show in Circleville.

A tradition in this Pickaway County seat since 1903, the show will spread over Circleville's primary downtown streets Wednesday through Saturday.

Costs are paid by membership subscriptions, sale of concession space and commissions on rides and shows. No gambling is allowed, and entertainment is watched closely to guarantee its meeting family standards.

The annual show, said to have started when Mayor George R. Haswell displayed pumpkins, corn and grain products in front of his Main Street office six decades ago, has received international attention. Plans are made for as many as 200,000 visitors over the four days.

Little Miss Pumpkin (first grade girls) and Miss Pumpkin (constantant parades are set for the first day. Fifty-one bands will participate before the show ends Saturday.

In addition to parades, concerts and contests, the show features displays of farm produce, homemaking skills and school projects, games, booths and rides; special exhibits and of course the awarding of ribbons.

1,700 See Bands At Stanton Local

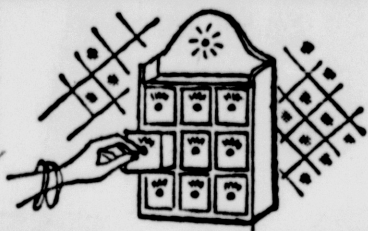

HAMMONDSVILLE — An estimated 1,700 attended a unique musical program featuring half-time shows by six area high school bands Saturday night at Henderson Field at Stanton Local High School.

East Liverpool High's Band was featured. Others participating were Wellsville, Southern Local, Jefferson Union, Springfield Local and Stanton Local.

Each band presented its best half-time show. Supt. C. P. Henderson of Stanton said the event was "highly successful." The football stands were filled to capacity.

Stanton Band Director John W. Hutson presented each of the visiting directors with metal and walnut plaques made by industrial arts students of Stanton Local.

The show was the first of its type to be presented in this area.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: I save all of my finger push-button, pump-type bottles, such as window cleaner, hand lotion, some starches, etc., come in. (This does NOT mean aerosol containers, gals! — Heloise).

I relabel the bottles and use them for scratch remover, furniture polish, spot removers, etc. They have a fine spray, and don't spill if tipped over, so they are never messy.

I also find these bottles ideal, when filled with water, for washing houseplants. . . .

I also use one of the bottles for lemon juice. The children like lemon flavor in their packaged mixed drinks. I can squeeze a dozen lemons at once instead of having to squeeze one each time we want to use lemon juice. It is always ready for a glass of lemonade, etc.

When kept in the refrigerator, it's great.

MRS. ROBERT DeYOUNG.

Now, who can deny it?

Be sure to label 'em, gals. (The bottles, not the lemons.)

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Try putting your egg poacher to work when freshening stale rolls! I fold a piece of aluminum foil to cover the tray where the little cups go but leave the cups out.

I put a little water in the bottom of the egg poacher, lay the rolls on the foil tray, put the lid on, and steam them about five minutes — depending on their staleness.

The result is wonderfully soft rolls.

BETTY WEBER.

DEAR HELOISE: Plastic lids from coffee cans can be used to cover an oil can (quart-size) after part of the oil has been used.

I use this oil for my lawn mower, etc., and only use part of it at one time. The plastic lid fits perfectly, keeps out the dirt and prevents the oil from spilling.

H. D.

DEAR HELOISE: Last year at gardening time we had bunches and bunches of carrots. We started cleaning them and thought we would never get through. . . .

My dad came up with a marvelous idea. We put a few carrots at a time in our washing machine, turned on the cold water, and just washed away. . . . Naturally, we did not use soap!

D. M. MASON.

DEAR HELOISE: Here is a little secret my Home Economics teacher probably has told to every one of her students. . . . but some people may not know it.

When measuring flour or other dry ingredients for baking, instead of fighting with the waxed paper to keep it in place while you are sifting, just wipe the surface of the table with a damp cloth first, then lay the waxed paper over it.

The dampness of the table will hold the waxed paper in place so that it will not slide while you are working!

NAN BELL.

So glad to see you are taking Home Economics, hon. HELOISE.

2 Cincinnati District Boys Still Missing

CINCINNATI (AP) — Two third-grade boys who were last seen at 4 p.m. Thursday were still missing today and suburban Fairfax police said they will go on checking all leads.

"We have received phone calls from all over the greater Cincinnati area," police chief James Finan said after a rain-storm and darkness put an end to a massive search of an open field between Fairfax and the Little Miami River late Sunday.

The chief said he had put out an alert to law enforcement officers in the eastern United States to be on the lookout for Johnny Hundley and Jimmy McQueary, both 9. There have been reports the Hundley boy told other children he planned to run away from home.

The phone calls Finan referred to were reports from people who thought they saw the youngsters. He said there have been dozens of them—both to the boys' parents and to police.

"We've checked out all the reports, the Fairfax police, Cincinnati police, county police," he said, "Always, when we got there, the boys were gone."

Finan also said police have searched "all the places we think are logical" such as wooded areas and a Little Miami River bridge under which boys have been known to go fishing.

None of the searches turned up any clues to the boys' fate.

As the search continued, Fairfax residents recalled a similar incident in August when four-year-old Debbie Dappen disappeared. Her body was found under a neighbor's porch a few days later and a 13-year-old boy admitted the slaying.

Chief Finan would not speculate on what may have happened to Jimmy and Johnny. "We have no idea what happened," he said, after admitting that "you have to think something is wrong" when children have been missing for several days.

The Texas Longhorns have finished in the top ten national ratings 10 times.

Shipments Of Grain Break Lakes Record

CLEVELAND (AP) — Grain shipment by U.S. vessels on the Great Lakes to Oct. 1 totaled 61,560,729 bushels, a record for the period, the Lake Carriers Association reported today.

But this was only 11.3 per cent of the total grain hauled, most of which is transported in Canadian and foreign ships, the Lake Carriers Association said. In net tons the U.S. share amounted to 15,510,994.

Coal shipments to Oct. 1 were the highest in 14 years at 37,276,105 net tons, or up about 3/4 million tons from a year ago, the association reported.

IF YOU WANT to whistle while you work, surround yourself with beauty. This sleek kitchen is a work of art and mighty efficient, thanks to custom designed cabinets in creamy west coast hemlock. Wood's coloring and delicate grain allow unlimited choice of color and pattern for other materials and accessories.

Custom-Designed Cabinets Urged

PORTLAND, Ore. — Women can't be standardized. Consider that, and you'll see why more and more homemakers insist on custom - designed kitchen cabinets.

Given a choice, a woman will sacrifice little luxuries in a house in favor of putting those dollars into a truly workable kitchen.

Custom designing allows for differences of opinion and habit — a most necessary ingredient in the kitchen. A cook's procedures and methods are as personal a matter as her collection of pots and pans, and it's far more sensible to build the kitchen to suit the lady than the other way around.

PERSONALIZED design also counts high for efficiency. Cabinets can be tailored for their specific contents, saving space and motion. They also can be placed just where needed to separate the kitchen into time - saving work centers.

Cooking operations go near the range, with needed utensil drawers and condiment shelves. Salad - making and general food preparation goes between the sink and refrigerator. China cabinets are located close to dishwasher and breakfast nook.

The baking center should be near the ovens, if they are separated from surface burners, and here you can treat yourself to all sorts of specialties. The mixer can be set on a shelf that pulls out and up from base cabinets, locking into position at counter level. You can build in an extra-wide breadboard, flour and sugar dispensers, and give yourself counter space without overhead cabinets.

EQUALLY important, custom design means beauty. The kitchen is a hardwork area, and beauty helps you whistle while you work. For cabinets, prestige western woods like west coast hemlock can be specified and the finish can be a clear, washable plastic lacquer that captures all the wood's natural beauty while insuring easy upkeep.

Women who like to decorate also will appreciate golden - hued hemlock for its compatibility with other textures and colors. The wood's fine vertical graining allows a choice of counter and floor materials with as much or as little pattern as desired.

In colors, it combines beautifully with intriguing schemes like pink and charcoal, the blues and blue - greens, and even with butter yellow to orange hues.

A final point in favor of custom building is that advantage can be taken of extras for little cost. Quality hardware is in this category and includes not only easily grasped, easily cleaned door pulls, but also glides for drawers and for pull - out shelves in base cabinets. Adjustable shelving would be another desirable extra.

Hardwood Floors Can Be Yours AT SURPRISINGLY Low Cost!

For as little as $45.90 you can cover that old floor with the lifetime beauty of solid oak... pre-finished down to the last nailhole by Cromar. Cromar factory-finished oak flooring requires no sanding, no varnishing, no waxing at installation.

Decorators Also Make Architectural Changes

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Many apartments and houses have rooms that resemble little boxes so that interior designers must often take care of architectural details before getting to the home's furnishings.

You can't get that continental look that everyone wants these days with a background of blank walls, says interior designer George Bockman.

"The good thing is that people accept architectural details you suggest. Years ago they fought it," he says.

In the 1930s when stark modern was in vogue, a reaction from the crash, it made no difference really what kind of background you had for furniture. People were escaping from the opulence of the '20s, he says.

BUT TODAY richness is in style again. People want to enjoy their homes and have others enjoy them. If they go to the theater, it is because they want to, not because they want to escape from dreary abodes.

Bockman revives rooms with crown molding or a dado, if possible. He aims to provide true architectural detail, such as boiserie (French panelling) as often as possible.

"Even when the budget is low, it is possible to have these treatments by using simulated effects of moldings and boiserie manufactured in paper. Even in rented apartments people take a lot of care in this type of detailing, he points out.

"I've found people will put money into their homes when they are interested in a definite style. But if there is an ordinary assemblage of furnishings, they will not want as much for their homes. When one realizes what total design means, though, one is not so conscious of how much it costs as how to achieve it," he says.

ONCE YOU understand furnishings and background, you can create effects of your own. Trouble is that amateurs go all to pieces if a mistake is made, he says, instead of merely trying to solve it some way. Interior designers cope with mistakes, born of the necessity of correcting the error.

A wall scenic in his own home is a case in point. A former scenic designer for television and Broadway, his knowledge came in handy when a problem arose.

"I had ordered scenic wall panels from miniature panels that were charming. But when I saw the full-scale scenics on my wall, I was shocked—the colors were far too strong.

"I could have had an artist work at $75 a day to correct the look, but that was too expensive. So I bought theatrical netting, wide and seamless, and spread it over the entire wall, surrounding it with a gallow (narrow trimming) to make it look chic. The mist created by the netting looked perfectly natural over the architectural theme, an Italian landscape."

That's how a different look is born. But sometimes it takes courage to try.

ONE BIG help for interior designers has been the interest in quality furnishings displayed by clients, says Bockman, who is newly-elected president of the New York Chapter of the National Society of Interior Designers.

They want quality in everything — art, architectural details, color, furnishings. And the key thing is, he says, that more people recognize fine detail in furnishings — fine carving and furniture finishes obtainable today in authentic reproductions.

Though some people seem shy and restrained when exposed to shocking ways of using color, they are stimulated by it.

The impact of good design and forward-looking designers is helping everyone, he says. Some people originate; some adapt. It's like women's styles, he points out. Some set trends; others copy.

Dining rooms of the smallest apartments are being made more formal, and small areas of living rooms and other space can become spots to set up formal dining in a jiffy.

Bockman has set up such dining areas in less than a half-hour with two or three card tables, fine linens, beautiful candles and accessories, storing everything in a handy adjacent area until needed.

"I give a dress rehearsal and my client knows what to do when the time comes. One table can be keyed to a color in one accessory, another table in another color, if desired," he explains.

Steel Spurs Research In Hunt For Markets

NEW YORK — A band of researchers has ushered in the second century of steel by vigorously exploring new and dramatic markets where the metal may replace materials now exclusively in the domain of such products as paper and textiles.

Nobody knows exactly how much all steel companies are spending on research, but based on estimates by the National Science Foundation, the rate of spending is expected during 1964 to reach an annual level of at least $100 million.

Industry sources say this figure takes on added significance because steel research is almost entirely company - financed. In contrast to many other industries where a major part of research is supported by government grants.

Since 1952, steel research staffs in the more than 275 companies in more than 300 communities have tripled in size, with some 5,000 persons engaged in such activities.

In addition to the research work conducted by individual companies, the American Iron and Steel Institute is sponsoring 46 industrywide research projects in 25 private research and education institutions.

Experimental work in steel usually isn't of the table - top kind—where the research man has all the tools he needs at his fingertips. Instead, such work often requires the building of huge experimental units or "pilot" models, involving great investments of money and time.

Thomas F. Patton, chairman of the American Iron and Steel Institute, said the steel industry begins its Century Two with confidence and predicted that the era of technological change and development will eclipse the vast achievements of the recent past.

He said no one can look ahead for 100 years but concedes that the shape of things in the steel industry over the next 20 or 30 years seems fairly clear.

"In 1964," he noted, "production almost certainly will reach an historic high, perhaps approaching 120 million tons. This record output is but a base for the production needed in the immediate future.

"By the year 2,000 — just a little more than a third of the way through steel's Century Two — a U.S. population estimated at 331 million persons' probably will generate the need for steel production in the neighborhood of 300 million tons per year.

"To meet this requirement, the industry will have to earn and reinvest billions of dollars in new facilities as the years go by — and today we are proceeding on this course, with capital expenditure of about $1,800,000,000 allocated for 1964 alone."

Patton said that "of one thing we can be sure: the steels of the future will be as different from those of today as today's new metals differ from that first commercial heat of steel produced at Wyandotte, Michigan 100 years ago."

Tokyo is so desperate for living space it dumps its trash into the bay and covers it with soil to create more land for high-rise apartments.

Price Boosts In Steel Seen

CLEVELAND (AP) — Odds favor selective steel price hikes before the end of the year, but competition from imports and domestic nonferrous materials and worries over the government's reaction serve as deterrents, Steel Magazine said today.

The metalworking weekly added there's general agreement that the market will support higher prices, but steel producers also are concerned about the impact that price hikes would have on auto prices and contract talks with the United Steelworkers of America.

Major producers are virtually unanimous in favoring higher prices, with companies that have often opposed price boosts now asserting they are not getting enough money for their steel, the magazine said.

"Imports of all (steel) products are running well ahead of last year's record pace," Steel said. "Through July, they totaled 2.6 million tons and were 22 per cent higher than those of the 1963 period."

The magazine said imports would deter U.S. producers from boosting their prices on such products as welded pipe and merchant wire, but wouldn't prevent selective hikes on sheets, plates and bars.

The strike against General Motors, Corp. caused a decline in steel shipments last week although producers booked new orders at a fast pace.

Steel said ingot production this week will be slightly higher than the estimated 2.6 million tons produced last week, when the output was the highest since the week ended June 1, 1963.

The magazine's price composite on the prime grade of steel-making scrap — No. 1 heavy melting — was unchanged last week at $36.50 a gross ton. Its composite on finished steel also held steady at $151.80 a net ton.

Wet Blacktop Blamed After Autos Collide

Wet blacktop pavement was blamed for a crash that damaged two autos early today in a collision on the right-angle turn at Pennsylvania Ave. and Elizabeth St., police said.

The crash at 12:24 involved a 1964 model convertible driven by Daniel Angelini, 24, of Mansfield and a 1956 two-door sedan operated by Gary W. Bailey, 18, of Dixonville.

Angelini told police he was unfamiliar with the route and came upon the turn unexpectedly. He said his car slid and hit Bailey's oncoming car.

A Post Office truck drifted from its parking place at Jackson and W. 5th Sts. Sunday at 3:09 p. m. and struck a parked sedan, officers said.

Thomas H. Hebron, 37, of 614 1/2 St. Clair Ave. told officers he halted the truck to make a collection from a mailbox. Although the truck was out of gear and the emergency brake was on, the vehicle drifted and bumped a 1955 auto owned by Stanley C. Lovett of 5th Ave., LaCroft, damaging the entire left side, police said. There was damage to the bumper and right rear of the truck, officers said.

A hit-skip crash Sunday at 7:40 p. m. at W. Church Alley and East Alley damaged the right headlight of a parked 1963 compact owned by Thomas Mackey, 1118 Avondale St., police said.

Earnest Smith, 215 W. 3rd St., a witness, told the owner he saw an old car hit the Mackey auto and continue without stopping.

Comparatively minor damage resulted in a two-car collision Sunday at 7:33 a. m. on Broadway at E. 5th St., police said.

The mishap involved a 1957 coupe driven by Pauline E. Taylor, 40, of 500 Central Ave. and a 1964 four-door sedan oper-

Easy Solution Offered If Posts Are Decayed

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

A week or so ago we saw a very clever and practical repair made to the supporting posts between the doors of a double garage.

Termites had infested the post up to a height of 10 inches above the garage floor. It had looked as though the owner was in for an expensive repair bill, but a handy man came up with the following answer to the problem.

His first step was to cut the post through at a level above the termite damage after he had driven two 2-by-4's between the floor and the header above the doors.

This took the weight off the post and prevented any sag or dropping of the front wall of the garage. The next step was to build a box or form beneath the sawed-off post, making it just large enough to offer a full bearing for the post.

Next, this was filled with concrete which came up just enough to have the bottom of the post slightly embedded. After four or five days, the box was removed, leaving a sturdy support and a permanent one.

In most cases the center support of a double garage door will be boxed in around the post, in which case the trim must be removed before the work is started and then replaced with any additional alteration the size of the concrete support may make necessary.

The actual cost of material for this job was less than $10 and the actual time required was five hours.

Colts Edge Packers; Hornung Misses 5 Field Goals

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Paul Hornung wore the collar — in more ways than one — and it meant another trip to the cleaners Sunday for the Green Bay Packers.

Hornung, bothered by a pinched shoulder nerve, donned a protective collar Sunday for Green Bay's key National Football League game at Baltimore. Then he missed five successive field goal attempts, the last one backfiring into a 24-21 Colt victory that jolted the Packers' 1964 title hopes.

The Packers have dropped three of six starts and trail the Western Division-leading Colts by two games. The three defeats have been by a total of five points — points that Hornung, the NFL's single-season record holder, failed to produce. He missed extra point kicks in one-point losses to the Colts and Minnesota Vikings.

Green Bay held a 21-17 lead Sunday with less than two minutes remaining when the Colts blocked Hornung's fifth

Browns Win, Steelers Fall

FG try. Jerry Logan picked up the loose ball and rambled from the Colt 30 to the Packer 34, from where the home club launched its winning drive.

Lenny Moore capped the advance with a five-yard touchdown sprint in the closing seconds and Baltimore had its fifth straight victory after a season-opening loss to Minnesota.

The Detroit Lions strengthened their hold on second place in the West by blanking the Chicago Bears 10-0. The Los Angeles Rams climbed to third with a 42-14 rout of the San Francisco 49ers. The Lions are 4-1-1, the Rams 3-2-1.

In the Eastern Division, St. Louis and Cleveland pulled out narrow victories and remained tied for the lead at 4-1-1. The Cardinals scored two touchdowns in the final half-minute for a 38-24 decision over Washington. The Browns caught Dallas 20-16 on a 54-yard interception return by Bernie Parrish in the fourth quarter.

Old pros Ollie Matson and Sam Baker led the injury-riddled Philadelphia Eagles past the floundering New York Giants 23-17. Bill Brown scored three touchdowns as Minnesota slugged the Pittsburgh Steelers 30-10.

The Buffalo Bills, only unbeaten pro club, stretched their victory string to six by whipping the Kansas City Chiefs 35-22 and the San Diego Chargers walloped the Denver Broncos 42-14 in Sunday's American Football League action.

Detroit's convincing victory over the Bears proved costly. Starting quarterback Earl Morrall suffered a broken collarbone in a first-quarter pile-up and may be lost for the season. Milt Plum did some fancy relief pitching, including a 10-yard TD strike to Jim Gibbons. Wayne Walker added a 46-yard field goal.

The Lions' rugged defense held the defending champions, now 2-4, to 29 yards rushing and picked off three passes.

Roman Gabriel, returned from the injured list, tossed four first-half touchdown passes for the Rams, who set an NFL record for yardage on interception returns. The Los Angeles secondary swiped seven 49er passes and netted 314 yards on the runbacks.

Charley Johnson fired a 14-yard payoff pass to Bobby Joe Conrad with 26 seconds to play and Pat Fisher lugged a last-second interception 39 yards for another score as the Cardinals snapped a 24-24 deadlock. Jim Martin's 24-yard field goal had tied it for the Redskins with 1:50 remaining.

The Browns trailed 16-13 in the fourth quarter when Parrish raced the distance after grabbing a Don Meredith pass. Don Perkins, who played despite cracked ribs and ran for 96 yards, had put the Cowboys ahead with a one-yard scoring plunge. Cleveland's Jim Brown regained the league rushing lead from Perkins by reeling off 188 yards.

Matson, a 12-year veteran, scored on a four-yard run in the opening minute and raced 54 yards for another Philadelphia touchdown. Baker, a 10-year pro, kicked three field goals despite a sprained ankle. The defeat virtually killed New York's chances of repeating as Eastern Division champs. The Giants are 1-4-1.

Bill Brown caught two touchdowns passes from scrambling Fran Tarkenton and bulled a yard for another score as the Vikings whipped the Steelers. Carl Eller and Jim Marshall led Minnesota's second-half defensive charge that tossed Pittsburgh passer Ed Brown five times for 45 yards in losses.

United Wallops Foe, 64-0

HANOVERTON — United High set a new school record in walloping visiting Jackson-Milton 64-0 to make homecoming a complete success Saturday afternoon.

The 64 points represent a new high for United.

Gene (Moe) Metzgar led the scoring on a pass covering 20 yards.

The victory was the second with three tallies on runs of 15, 8 and one yard while Fritz Ziegler scored two with one a 72 yard dash and the other from eight yards out.

Marty Briceland got in the scoring column with a three-yard jaunt, Clyde Owne scored on a 10-yard run, Bob Adams went 12 yards and Dick Farmer scored on a pass covering 20 yards.

Jon Pilgrim, East Liverpool High's crack distance runner, finished first in a field of 70 runners in leading the Potters to a second place finish Saturday in the Wheeling Invitational meet held in Olgeby Park.

Pilgrim turned in his best race of the season, covering the 2 1/4 mile course in 11 minutes and 17 seconds.

The Potter star only has lost once this season to Bill Hill of Wheeling but Saturday Hill finished second to Pilgrim.

Martins Ferry won the meet with a total of 65 points while the Potters placed second with 69 points. Ten teams were entered in the meet.

Other Potters placing included Mike Kelly 13th, Larry Hamilton 16th, Joe Massey 18th and Bill Loy 21st.

The winning team and the runnerup received trophies and Pilgrim received a trophy for winning the race.

The Potters travel to Warren Saturday.

Tab Bold Lad As Favorite In '65 Derby

By The Associated Press
Right now Bold Lad is the standout favorite to win the 1965 Kentucky Derby and perhaps become the first 3-year-old colt in 17 years to sweep the triple crown of the Kentucky Derby-Preakness-Belmont Stakes.

The son of Bold Ruler, a Wheatley Stable homebred, finished his 2-year-old season in decisive fashion last Saturday. He romped home by seven lengths in the $176,825 Champagne Stakes at one mile at Aqueduct. It was his seventh straight success and perhaps his most impressive.

"He is the best horse I have ridden as a 2-year-old," said jockey Braulio Baeza. "He does what you want when you want it."

Trainer Bill Winfrey said it had been decided to pass up the rich Garden States Stakes for 2-year-olds at 1 1/16 miles next month and point Bold Lad for the Flamingo at 1 1/8 miles at Hialeah.

record, best in the district. Beaver Local now stands at 1-5.

Nether team hit paydirt in the first canto, but the Bulldogs went on to score in each of the succeeding quarters.

The stalemate was suddenly broken on the second play from scrimmage in the second quarter when Harper turned right end, evaded several Beaver tacklers, and galloped 84 yards to score. A pass from Pete Peters to Jim Harris made the score 8-0.

Baughman's Passes Down Southern Local By 34-16

Gall Baughman wound up and threw for three touchdowns in leading Crestview to a 34-16 victory over Southern Local Saturday at New Waterford.

The victory was the second in six outings for Crestview while Southern Local dropped its fifth straight game after winning the season's opener.

The Rebels scored twice in the first period, once in the third and closed with two touchdowns in the final quarter.

Baughman hit Ray Ward with a 42 yard scoring pass, pitched 45 yards to Howard Fitzsimmons for the second TD and shot a 10-yard pass to Keith Baker for another.

Jim Miller went from two yards out and Don Hubbard raced 36 yards for Crestview's final score.

Southern Local scored in the first period when Glenn Stewart galloped 65 yards for a touchdown then added the conversion to put the Indians in contention.

Southern's other score came when Dan Lewis raced 12 yards and Ed Arsuffi converted to make it 20-16 but Crestview tallied two insurance touchdowns in the final 12 minutes.

MIDWAY in the second stanza, the Beavers drove from their own 49 to the Bulldog's seven before the drive fizzled out. Following Larry Stittler's seven yard run to the 41 of East Palestine, Quarterback Norm Gaydos, two plays later, faked to fullback Al Copestick and ran to the 19. Copestick cracked center and bulled his way to the 11. Gaydos sneaked to the seven where the drive was stopped.

MINUTES later, the Beavers threatened again. After Pete Peters fumbled on the seven and lost the ball, Beaver Local fought down to the one before relinquishing the ball.

East Palestine then began a long drive which was capped by Terry Thompson's seven-yard run for the score. The Bulldogs went ahead 16-0 on a Peters-to-Harper pass for the conversion.

THE BULLDOG's drove 77 yards for their final touchdown, as Harper picked up 35 yards on four carries to spark the move. Fullback Jim Parker went into the end zone from seven yards out and Harper ran around left end to make the count 24-0.

The Beavers got off a big drive with two minutes left in the final quarter which started on the Red and White 38 and ended on East Palestine's 12. Two passes from Gaydos to Rudabaugh featured the threat, along with two razzle-dazzle runs by Stittler.

Jeff Lane and Rich Shilling were outstanding on defense for the Beavers.

Sikes Captures Las Vegas Golf

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The autumn professional golf trail winds into Southern California this week, and leading the way is rookie Dick Sikes, winner Sunday of the richest purse of the tour—$12,000—in the $70,000 Sahara Invitational.

The next stop is the $40,000 Mountain View Open at Corona, some 35 miles from Los Angeles, and many of the players can breathe easier. Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus will be in faraway Australia.

Sikes, 24, the 1963 national collegiate champion and two-time U.S. public links cham-pio, started with a nine-under-par 62 in the first round and finished with a 72 and a total of 275.

Bill Casper, former national Open champion and winner of three tournaments this year, placed second with a final round of 67 for 276. It was worth $6,500.

Nicklaus, Phil Rodgers, and Jack McGowan tied for third at 277. U.S. Open champion Ken Venturi finished at 279, Palmer 284, and British Open ruler Tony Lema 285.

American Sprinters Win, Add 2 More Gold Medals

By TED SMITS

Associated Press Sports Editor

TOKYO (AP) — Mike Larrabee, the elder statesman of the nation's sprinters, and Edith McGuire raced away with two more gold medals Monday and the American equestrian team added a silver as the United States equalled its 1960 harvest of Olympic hardware — 71.

The three medals gave the United States 31 gold, 21 silver and 19 bronze medals with five days of competition left in this 18th Olympiad.

Russia added three gold, three silver and two bronze today to make its total 47. In all, the Russians have 16 gold, 12 silver and bronze with some of its best events, such as gymnastics, still remaining.

Miss McGuire, a 20-year-old Tennessee State co-ed who already owns a silver medal, was just one-tenth of a second off the world record when she won the women's 200-meter dash in 23 seconds flat, an Olympic record.

And Larrabee, at 30 an old, old man for a sprinter, picked the best of all possible spots to win his first major race. The high school teacher from Fillmore, Calif., charged home the winner in the 400-meter dash in a time of 45.1 seconds, about one yard in front of Yale graduate Wendell Mottley, who was running for Trinidad.

The victories were the United States' 11th and 12th in track competition. The men have won 10 — one more than they gained in Rome — while the women once again swept the dashes and are favored in the 400-meter relay, yet to come.

The equestrian team, however, provided the medal that matched the '60 total, taking second in the team three-day event.

The track team, however, continued to have surprising ups and downs. Tom O'Hara of Chicago and young Jim Ryun of Wichita, Kan., proved major disappointments when they failed to make the finals of the 1,500-meter run, the metric mile.

Their unhappy results thus left the lean Oregonian, Dwyer Burleson, the only survivor from a squad that was considered the best the United States has had in four decades at this prestigious distance.

Burleson, from Cottage Grove, Ore., won his heat in an excellent 3:41.8, but even that was well off the spectacular showing of Peter Snell, the world record-holder at a mile. The tireless New Zealander methodically clipped off a time of 3:38.8, equal to a 3:55.8 mile. His lap times of 56.5, 1:55.8 and 2:55.8 left no doubt that he was the man to beat.

The United States was assured of breaking its 1960 medal total when flyweight boxer Bob Carmody, Paterson, N.J., outpointed German Otto Babisch and moved into the semifinals. Both semifinal losers get bronze medals, but Carmody wasn't impressed.

"I'm not concerned with the bronze medal," he said. "I want the big one. I want the gold."

And, while, the U.S. track team was moving along as well or perhaps better than expected, American athletes also were upholding another tradition. The United States has never won a medal, gold, silver or bronze, in Greco Roman wrestling. And the U.S. had none in the finals this year.

Russia, meanwhile, was expected to grab off a few medals in that sport, and added another when Tamara Press, sister of pentathlon winner Irina Press, won the women's discus throw with an Olympic record 187-10 3/4.

Karin Blazer of Germany equalled the world record of 10.5 in winning the women's 80-meter hurdles.

The United States was blanked in both events.

Browns Get Late TD To Nip Dallas

DALLAS (AP)—You've gotta have heart.

That's how coach Blanton Collier sized up the 20-16 victory by his Cleveland Browns over the Dallas Cowboys Sunday.

"Our defense did a magnificent job," said Collier. "Heart was the difference from last week. They showed they had it today."

The Browns suffered their only defeat of the season nine days ago when the Pittsburgh Steelers beat them, 23-7.

The victory Sunday enabled the Browns to remain tied for first place with the St. Louis Cardinals in the National Football League's Eastern Division.

The Browns won even though the defense was short-handed due to injuries. Tackles Mike Bundra and Frank Parker and safetyman Ross Fichtner didn't see any action. Safetyman Larry Benz went out in the first half with a recurrence of a hip injury.

Cleveland got its winning touchdown late in the final quarter while behind, 16-13. Bernie Parrish intercepted a Don Meredith pass and weaved his way 54 yards for the score, getting key blocks from Jim Houston, Jim Kanicki and Bill Glass.

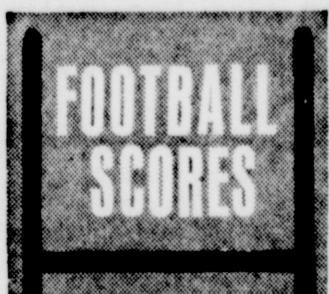

With six minutes left, the Cowboys took the ensuing kickoff and went from their own 20-yard line to the Cleveland 37. What seemed to be a touchdown pass to Tommy McDonald was called back when officials ruled Meredith had been beyond the line of scrimmage when he threw the ball.

The Cowboys lost the ball on downs and so did the Browns. Cleveland punted with 3:10 left. The Browns regained possession when Kanicki fell on Meredith's fumble at the Cowboys' 28.

As the Browns ran out the clock, a free-for-all nearly started between both teams. George Andrie seemed ready to leap on Frank Ryan although the gun had sounded and the passer was lying on the football.

Jim Brown intervened with what appeared to be a sharp right cross. He then threw the 6-foot-7 end to the ground and both squads poured onto the field. But cooler heads prevailed and the players walked off shaking hands.

"It was a rough game all afternoon," said Brown, who was bruised about the face and had a bloody nose from the beating he took from the Dallas defense.

The victory was the first by Kansas over the Sooners at Lawrence since 1946.

Staubach saw brief action for Navy but California had a healthy Craig Morton at quarter and the Golden Bears won 27-13. Army's Rolfe Stichweh was healthy but the Cadets made mistakes and saw Virginia turn them into one of the year's biggest upsets, 35-14.

Unbeaten, unranked Georgia Tech saw Jerry Priestly move in for Bruce Fisher and throw the pass which beat Side-less Auburn 7-3.

Nobody had a day like Tulsa's Jerry Rhome. In one of the great single game performances of all time, he accounted for all but two points in a 58-0 Missouri Valley Conference rout of Louisville. Rhome completed 35 of 51 passes for 440 yards and seven touchdowns, pitched for a two-pointer and ran for a pair of scores.

Grid Injuries Fatal

To Cleveland Youth

CLEVELAND (AP)—A Collinwood High School senior died Sunday of head injuries he told his father he received in a school football squad practice session more than a month ago.

Ulius (Skipper) Boyce, 18, died in Huron Road Hospital where he was admitted after collapsing Sept. 12 in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. U.
Larry Boyce. He underwent surgery Sept. 13 and never completely regained consciousness.

The boy's father said his son had complained of headaches and said he was hurt when tackled in scrimmage.

Wheeling Misses Chance To Gain On UFL Leaders

CLEVELAND (AP) — The eighth Saturday night, 31-3, to the Quebec Rifles.

Jim Edwards was the big headache for Wheeling. His interception in his own end zone with three minutes left preserved Grand Rapids' victory. Edwards also ran back a kickoff 105 yards for a third period touchdown.

The Warriors were beaten, 21-6, Sunday night by Canton's Bulldogs, Western Division co-leaders. But Wheeling dropped a 23-20 decision to the Grand Rapids Blazers. The Charleston Rockets remained deadlocked with Canton Saturday night by Wheeling, defeating the Toledo Tornadoes, Quebec 21-7. Winless Joliet lost its Joliet

Junior Fire Marshals in Valhalla, N.Y., take a pledge never to play with matches or start fires without adults present.

The crowning achievement for a Junior Fire Marshal occurs when he receives his helmet, supplied by Hartford Insurance Group.

How Fire Marshals Stay Young

Lessons in Fire Prevention Lead to Safety Homework

THERE'S A HOT TIME in store for parents who violate fire safety rules, particularly if their child is a Junior Fire Marshal. Youngsters across the United States have been urged to put the heat on for fire safety at home.

The campaign stems from statistics which blame 90 per cent of home-destroying fires on preventable hazards. Houses claimed by fire in the U. S. last year totaled 300,000.

An estimated 4.5 million children in elementary schools are expected to qualify as Junior Fire Marshals in 1964. In co-operation with the schools and local fire departments, the Hartford Insurance Group teaches fire safety rules. The company sponsors the program nationally, alerting children to the danger of stored papers and magazines, highly-flammable liquids, burning trash, worn appliance cords, portable heaters near drapes, smoking in bed, improper fuses and poorly placed extension cords. Armed with this knowledge, the child enlists the aid of a parent in inspecting the home. All fireplaces must have screens and children in the house must be aware of the danger of playing with matches. When the house scores 100 per cent on its test, the residing Junior Fire Marshal has earned his badge.

A volunteer fireman in Valhalla, N.Y., demonstrates dry-powder extinguisher for children at the elementary school as part of anti-fire training course.

A fringe benefit for Junior Fire Marshals is an invitation to the local fire house, where they get a chance to try out the equipment.

The operation of a fire alarm box is explained to a class because of the importance of an early report on any fire. The children learn how dangerous false alarms can be.

Miniature Fire Marshals Show Their Elders What to Do

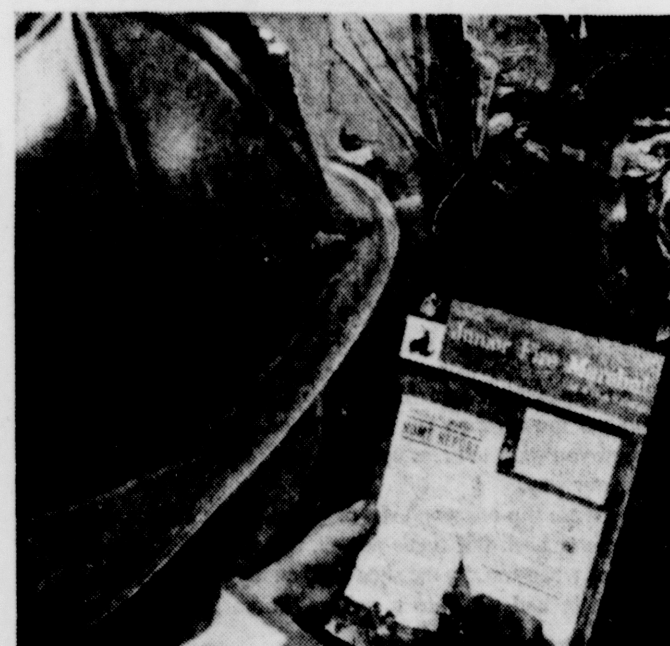

Susie Capurso warns her mother about frayed cord. Electrical failure is the third major cause of fires.

"No, Dad," says Eric Messman when his father appears ready to put gasoline on a charcoal fire.

A Junior Fire Marshal needs a lift to check the fuse box and see that circuits are not being overloaded.

Collection of oily rags and rubbish in this basement arouses watchdog instincts of a marshal.

FATHER TO CABLE SON $1,000

British Authorities Halt U.S. Youth, Girl On Tour

ALLENDALE, N. J. (AP)—An Allendale father planned today to cable $1,000 to his son and a girl whose tour of Europe was stopped abruptly Sunday by British immigration authorities in Prestwick, Scotland.

Nancy McConaughy, 18, Pasadena, Calif., and Peter Van Arsdale, 19, of Allendale, told the authorities they planned to hitch hike through Europe, earning their living by singing folk songs to the accompaniment of Peter's guitar.

They were taken into custody at a Prestwick Airport because immigration officials said, they had no work permits and no visible means of support.

Peter cabled his father, Leonard Van Arsdale, a psychologist, and asked for $1,000 so he and Miss McConaughy wouldn't be sent back to New York.

Van Arsdale said the youngsters had money with them but were casually dressed. "They certainly weren't dressed for staying in the best hotels or going to any formal dinner parties," he said.

He said Mrs. Van Arsdale is chairman of the Allendale chapter of the Experiment in International Living, group which arranges for students to live abroad. He said Peter and Nancy planned to visit various families in Europe whose children had visited the Van Arsdales.

He said Peter, who is majoring in anthropology at Antioch College, and Nancy, who plans to enter college in the fall, met while vacationing with their families in Mexico last summer.

25 Newspapers Receive Awards

CHICAGO (AP)—Twenty-five newspapers received awards today for outstanding reporting of local government news and presenting it to readers in an interesting way.

The awards were made in an annual contest for members of the Inland Daily Press Association. They were presented at the association's annual meeting by Prof. Charles Higbie of the University of Wisconsin's journalism school, which sponsors the contest for the organization.

The winners included the Fairborn, Ohio, Herald, first place in the Class A division, up to 5,000 circulation, and the Greenville, Ohio, Advocate, honorable mention in the Class C division, 10,000 to 25,000 circulation.

130 County Firemen Attend Lecture

LEETONIA — About 130 attended the first session Sunday of the annual fire school of the Columbiana County Firemen's Association.

The second session will be held next Sunday. The firemen attend classes in the morning, have dinner, and then have more training in the afternoon.

Several departments, including Glenmoor, Wellsville, and Leetonia, were called away before the school ended to help battle fires in their communities.

None of the departments leave their communities unprotected, but in some cases, such as yesterday, it is necessary to recall reserve equipment.

Mahalia Jackson, 50, Has Left Hospital

CHICAGO (AP)—Gospel singer Mahalia Jackson, stricken with a serious heart ailment last month, is recuperating in private.

A spokesman for Little Company of Mary Hospital said Miss Jackson, 50, left the hospital late last week and is staying with out-of-town friends.

The 200-pound world-famed singer has been ordered to remain in bed for at least another four weeks. She entered the hospital Sept. 15, suffering with heart trouble doctors said was brought on by fatigue and high blood pressure.

16 More Die In Wrecks On Ohio's Roads

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Mishaps, fires and traffic accidents took another heavy toll of lives in Ohio over the weekend, killing at least 24 persons.

Traffic, which has been setting a grim record so far this month, claimed at least 16 lives. Four persons were killed in a head-on collision Friday night near Zanesville.

Four others lost their lives in fires in the county which began at 6 p.m. Friday and ran until midnight Sunday.

Other types of accidents killed at least four. A 3-year-old Cleveland boy was strangled on a garage door rope. A Dayton man was electrocuted. A Bucyrus girl struck down by a car in her driveway and one man drowned and another was missing and presumed dead in a boating accident on Lake Erie.

The fatalities:

Friday Night

An unidentified man, found in a smouldering station wagon in Cleveland.

Joseph A. Kazekes, 32, Garfield Heights, when his car struck a parked auto in Shaker Heights.

Thomas J. Bauer, 55, McConnellsville; his wife, Margaret Jean, 41; Floyd Dunlap, 24, Fultonham (Muskingum County); and Thomas Glenn Drake, 31, Columbus, in a head-on two-car collision on Ohio 60 eight miles south of Zanesville.

Susan E. Scheffler, 4, Bucyrus, run over in the driveway of her home by a car driven by her father.

Claudia Neubert, 17, Painesville, in a two-car crash on U. S. 20 near Painesville's east side.

Saturday

Samuel Leroy Roper, 19, near Akron, when the car he was in left a road on Akron's West side and struck three trees.

Bobby Adams, 23, Cleveland, when the car he was in hit a pole in Cleveland.

John Hay, 69, Bratenahl (Cuyahoga County), when his car crashed into the rear of a stalled car on Cleveland's Memorial Shoreway.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

TV Is No 'Picnic' Playwright Discovers

For some inexplicable reason the men running TV continue to hire top writers at fancy prices, then force them to write formula paper or leave the premises.

William Inge, the Pulitzer Prize playwright "Picnic," "Bus Stop," etc.), was signed by CBS more than a year ago to develop an hour-long dramatic series for the current season. It was to be called "All Over Town" and deal with people in a small Midwestern town.

Inge did three scripts. There were endless discussions. Inge left.

"I HAD AN IDEA for one kind of series, but they had another in mind. My idea was, and I still think so, that the characters in a drama can carry it. But CBS wanted a higher dramatic pitch. I simply could not do their way," he says.

Inge's predicament is even more tinged with irony now, because a couple of CBS situation comedies ("Petticoat Junction" and "Baileys of Balboa") have been getting pushed around on the overnight audience rating charts by ABC's "Peyton Place," a twice-a-week drama about a group of characters in a small town.

Had CBS gone along with playwright Inge, it might have had its own "Peyton Place," and no doubt a better one under the tutelage of a craftsman with Inge's superior talent.

NBC AND THE producers of Bob Hope's "Theater" apparently are as skittish about Inge's character study type of drama as CBS. He recently sold NBC a one-act play which was adapted for the "Theater" series, but the air date has now been postponed twice.

It is the story of an ex-debutante who marries an ex-baseball star and the madness which grips him because of real and imagined inadequacies in coping with his new world. Anne Bancroft and Jack Warden play the leads, and now NBC says it will air on Nov. 6.

"I saw a rough cut of the film," says Inge, "and I am worried over whether it worked well enough within the time limit. An hour drama on TV is only 46 minutes, you know, and only half of my play is used."

INGE BECAME interested in doing something for TV when he saw "It's a Man's World" on NBC two seasons ago, a series which the network canceled in midseason after the ratings scared sponsors.

"Man's World" inspired me," recalls Inge. "I said to myself, 'This is almost good.' All it needs is some salt. I told my agent I was ready to do TV."

What Inge did not know then was that NBC and the sponsors were looking at the ratings, not the "Man's World" series.

"Doesn't TV realize," Inge asks, rhetorically, "that character stories are the one place left for TV drama to turn?"

IT IS INGE's belief that the action-packed gimmick shows may attract an immediate audience at first, but attrition sets in fast, while a series developing characters will grow on the audience and ultimately last much longer.

He cites the "Dick Van Dyke" comedy series as an example of how character proves the most durable ingredient on TV.

"Those people are marvelous," especially Mary Tyler Moore. She's great. The series couldn't do without her now," says Inge.

Inge wants it known he is not an intellectual snob and says, "I do not look down my nose too far at 'Beverly Hillsbillies,' because I think it's good low comedy."

"But I do believe people will accept a lot more of the cultural things if we don't tell them what it is; that is, don't label it. That scares them off."

Contract Rates On Request

Deadline: 5:00 P. M. the day before publication. On Mondays and on morning following legal holidays advertisements are accepted until 9:00 A. M. the day of publication.

The Review is a member of the Association of Newspaper Classified Advertising Managers which includes practically all leading newspapers throughout the country and has for one of its aims the elimination of fraudulent advertising.

The Review as well as every other member of the Association endeavors to print only truthful and satisfied advertisements and will appreciate having its attention called to any advertising not conforming to the highest standard of honesty.

Public demand for usable goods was never greater than right now. Help meet it by selling things you don't need through fast acting, inexpensive Review Want Ads, and have extra cash in your pocket. Simply Dial 385-4545.

The entire want ad section of this newspaper is at your service. It's yours... for news of homes for sale, apartments, people have for rent, information on the best person to fix your roof or your oil burner. It's yours if you want to hire help or find a job. It's yours if you want to sell used furniture or an automobile. It's yours if you want to buy or sell any items. The Want Ad columns are at your service. Read and use them for profit. Place ads. Dial simply phone 385-4545.

Renewals of ads that appeared the previous day and corrections may be made until 9:00 A. M. on the day of publication.

into an inheritance or double your salary to get out of the low price field. You can own a Dodge Polara for no more than you would pay for a Ford or Chevy... and you get a lot more car for your money. More style. More power. More lasting value.

HERE'S HOW DODGE'S 5 YEAR/50,000-MILE ENGINE AND DRIVE TRAIN WARRANTY PROTECTS YOU: Chrysler Corporation confidently warrants all of the following vital parts of its 1985 cars for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first. And it backs up that warranty with the fact that Dodge dealers have the parts and labor to replace or repair at a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer's place of business without charge for such parts as: engine block, head and internal parts, intake manifold, water pump, transmission case and internal parts (excepting manual clutch assembly), drive shafts, axles, suspension and differential, and rear end housing. REPAIRS REQUIRED FOR MAINTENANCE: The following maintenance services are required to keep your Dodge engine and drive train protected: replace oil and oil filter every 3,000 miles; change engine oil every 3 months or 4,000 miles, whichever comes first; replace oil filter every second oil change; clean carburetor air filter every 6 months and replace it every 2 years; and every 20,000 miles furnish evidence of the following maintenance: replace spark plugs and distributor cap; replace timing belt; change water pump; and change coolant. WARRANTY COVERAGE: Dodge's 5 year/50,000-mile engine and drive train warranty covers all Dodge cars and light trucks. WINDUP AND VERDICT: Dodge's 5 year/50,000-mile engine and drive train warranty is the most comprehensive in the industry. Simple enough for such important protection.

OFF THE RECORD

How Can I?
By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I easily remove fingermarks from piano keys?
A.—An ordinary pencil eraser makes an ideal tool for this. It fits easily between the black keys and gets into all the corners. For real difficult spots, requiring cleaning fluid, just wrap the eraser with a cloth soaked in the fluid. The eraser will make the application of the fluid easier in the hard - to - get - at places.

Q.—Please give me some tips on the easier planing of a door that persistently sticks.
A.—Before planing this sticking door, use a piece of colored chalk to chalk the inside of the door jamb. When the door is closed, the chalk will rub off on the door wherever it binds, thus marking the part that needs planing off.

Q.—How can I prevent milk from scorching the dish or pan in which it is to be heated?
A.—By rinsing the utensil in cold water before pouring your milk into it.

Q.—How can I keep my new aluminum kitchen vessels bright and shining for a long time?
A.—By using a mild soap or a detergent and water alone, and taking care not to burn food in them. Rinse with scalding water and polish with a soft towel. Mild soap is recommended, because strongly alkaline soaps tend to dull the finish.

Q.—How can I repair small rust holes in the body of my car?
A.—Try plugging these with steel wool, applying flux, and then soldering. The plugs can be filled, sanded, and painted with metal primer, and after the primer has dried, a finish coat of the desired color may be applied.

Q.—How can I remove a tight ring from my finger?
A.—It is very seldom that a tight ring cannot be removed if the hand is held in ice-cold soapsuds for a few minutes.

A Junior Editors Quiz About
HEAT

QUESTION: Why do people in hot countries wear white clothes?

ANSWER: Light and heat are related: it's easy to realize this when you go out in the sunlight and feel its warmth on your skin. Remember, too, that white contains all the other colors: some of these, especially the reds, oranges and yellows, being called "warm" colors. Our body temperatures rise slightly if we are surrounded by warm colors. Black, on the other hand, is the absence of color and light, so, if light and white mean warmth, black means cold.

You might think that black, being cold, would be the right color for a hot climate, and white, being warm, would be right for winter wear. But it's just the other way around, that's because the surface of the white object does not absorb the white rays; it repels them. Since this object has not absorbed the warm white rays, it remains cool, which is why white clothing is good in hot climate. In reverse, a black object absorbs the warmer white rays, so it tends to be warm.

FOR YOU TO DO: Prove these points by the experiment in the picture. Have a white card and a black one; let a few drops of candle wax fall on each. When wax cools, hold both cards an equal distance from a lighted bulb. Since the black card gets warmer, the wax on this will melt first.
